PRICE TEN CENTS

COMMUNISTS SEIZE TWO IMPORTANT CHINESE CITIES

Thinks Communist Outbreak Will Be Only 'Small War'

Interpretation By James D. White (Associated Press War Analyst)

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 3.—(AP)—There is a timeless quality about the red-plastered walls of the Winter Palace in Peiping.

Once inside, one doesn't forget the misery and uproar outside, but those distractions aside before the thousands of years of Chinese history which take life in this almost magic place.

The marble court is brilliant in the autumn sun. There is perfect proportion and balance in every eave and massive pillar, fashioned by long-dead architects. The place is quiet, and one can think—or dream.

General Li Tsung-jen, one of Chungking's top commanders in top-spy North China, has his headquarters in this quiet palace, and from its quiet perspective he spoke this week on the "civil war" between his government and the Chinese Communists.

Gen. Li spoke both as a soldier who has fought his full share of civil wars himself, and as a politician who has used those wars as stepping stones to his present position.

He said calmly, as one says things in that huge, hushed cluster of buildings:

"There may be a small war now in China between the Central government and Chinese Communists, but major differences can be decided by negotiations."

He pointed out what everyone knows but often forgets, that the Communists are outnumbered, or will be when American planes ferry enough Central government troops to the right places. That the Communists are outgunned, because generally they have only what they have captured from the Japanese. That they have no planes.

General Li's calmness is borne out in private advice from Shanghai which discounts the talk of full-scale civil war.

It agrees with Li's prediction that there "may be a small war in China now," but it seems to fall in with his belief that this "small war" can be localized to a considerable extent which will not erase the possibility of a peaceful settlement when all the military chips are down.

This "small war" is going on as Central troops are flown back into Red-held areas. Chungking is determined to keep on flying them in, in American planes. The Reds appear determined to resist, but there is not yet anything on the record to show that either side wants the resulting local clashes to spread seriously.

Why, then, are the Communists resisting—sometimes aggressively, it appears—when it seems obvious that the cards would be stacked against them in any all-out test of fighting strength?

The answer may be that in some spots they are not yet outgunned or outnumbered by Central troops, and that in the meantime they seek to achieve every possible advantage in territory and geographic position for bargaining purposes later on when the Central government's military position becomes no longer contestable.

One phase of this effort appears to show up in the field of actual fighting this week. The Central government reported that strong Red forces were making a determined effort to

SOUVENIR HUNTERS DAMAGE BATTLESHIP

NEW YORK, Nov. 3.—(AP)—The mighty battleship Missouri, whose decks have been crowded by hundreds of thousands of civilians since she came here Oct. 22 to take part in Navy Day activities, has suffered considerable damage at the hands of souvenir hunters, officers reported today.

As members of her crew carefully surveyed results of the public inspection, Lt. Philip Stromback, damage control officer, opined: "I would prefer battle or fire damage control."

Lt. Stromback said the period from Sept. 5 to Oct. 22 was spent putting the ship in such a shape that "the public would be proud of her." He added: "She's not much to be proud of now."

Officers said the throngs of souvenir-hungry visitors came armed with pliers, wrenches and penknives. They swept the vessel clean of most everything loose and a lot that wasn't.

NAZARENE MEET SLATED IN CITY

Annual Convention Will Bring Many To Monroe This Week

The annual district assembly of the Church of the Nazarene will be held in Monroe this week and an attendance of more than 200 from all over the state is anticipated.

Beginning Monday night a missionary service will be conducted by General Superintendent H. V. Miller, Kansas City, Mo., and as this church denomination is placing great emphasis on mission work, and a large number are to be sent out this year, probably as many as 500, this program will be of special interest.

Tuesday morning a meeting will be held in which officers of the society are to be elected. Mrs. Elbert Dodd of Vivian is president of the convention.

Tuesday afternoon the Nazarene young people will have their convention, electing their officers for the coming year. Rev. Dan Perryman of Shreveport is leader of this group.

Wednesday at 9 a. m. the assembly will be called to order for an inspirational address by Dr. Miller after which the organization of the conference will proceed and business will be transacted. Most of the day will be devoted to reports of pastors and the work of the church the past year.

Chaplain Mark R. Moore, son of the local pastor, will speak Wednesday at 7:30 p. m., when he will relate some experiences in more than five months in a German prison camp. This will be an inspirational address of more than usual interest it is said.

Thursday at 10 a. m. the district superintendent will be elected as well as other officers who will be selected at this time.

All sessions will be held in the First Methodist church. The public is cordially invited to attend all services.

ARMISTICE DAY PROGRAM GIVEN

Memory Of Men Who Gave Lives In War To Be Recorded Recognition

The memorial service for the dead in World War II will be held in Neville High School auditorium Sunday, November 11, Armistice Day, at 3 p. m. Unusually impressive exercises are planned under the auspices of the L. B. Faulk American Legion post.

The program will be as follows: Music by the bands of the Ouachita Parish and Neville High Schools. "Star Spangled Banner."

Prayer, Rev. Father Dennis Curran, assistant pastor of St. Matthew's Catholic church.

Song by O. P. H. S. Glee Club. Scripture, Psalm 66, by Dr. A. M. Sorens, pastor of the First Methodist church.

Prayer of Thanksgiving by Dr. Sorens. Address by Rep. C. E. McKenzie. Selection by Neville High School Glee Club.

Award of certificates and gold stars to next of kin of men who lost their lives in the war.

(Awards will be given out by past commanders of the L. B. Faulk post who are as follows: Louis Rolfe, Murray Hudson, Dr. R. L. Wood, Dr. P. M. Gayle, Charles M. Mitchell, Bob McLeod and Joe Trammell.)

Song, "God Bless America." Prayer and benediction by Rabbi F. K. Hirsch, of Temple Bnai Israel.

2 WITNESSES SAY YAMASHITA ORDERED FILIPINO SLAUGHTER

MANILA, Nov. 3.—(AP)—Two witnesses testified today that Lt. Gen. Tomoyuki Yamashita had issued orders to "wipe out all Filipinos" and had commended his brutal Japanese gendarmes for their "fine work."

In a stormy session and over the vigorous protests of defense counsel the witnesses asserted the former Japanese commander in the Philippines knew and approved his troops' brutalities, thus for the first time in the week-long trial offering testimony linking him directly with the crimes.

One of them, Narciso Lapus, former secretary to the exiled political Gen. Artemio Ricarte, told the military commission that in conversations with Ricarte Yamashita affirmed his order to wipe out all Filipinos.

A Japanese, Fernin Miyasaki, former interpreter at Japanese military police headquarters here, said the general had officially commended his police for their "fine work" in handling civilians hostile to his regime.

The witness said he saw at least 400 civilian suspects "handed" by the

Says Crowded Prisoners Forced To Sleep On Wooden Shelves

THIS IS MY STORY (In Chapter 29 of his remarkable account of his trials as a captive of the Japs, Gen. Jonathan M. Wainwright today tells of his trip from Manila to Karemko, dread Formosan prison camp.)

By General Jonathan M. Wainwright (Copyright 1945, King Features Syndicate, Inc. Reproduction in whole or in part strictly prohibited.)

Major Gen. Edward P. King and I were taken to a cabin on the boat deck of the Jap ship which lay at Manila that August 11, 1942, and were told that we must not leave the room during the trip. But it was a comfortable place and for a time I believe that the Jap general might well be telling me the truth when he intimated that happier days lay ahead of us.

I soon found out, however, that King and I were the only Americans on the ship who were being treated as something more than cattle. All others were jammed in the hold in scandalous style.

They slept on two long wooden shelves extending six feet out from the walls and arranged one over the other. Each man was granted 2 1/2 feet of space on the shelves, with no bed-clothing and the most primitive toilet arrangements.

The ship lay all that night beside Pier 7, then pulled out and anchored just outside the breakwater, where she waited until 3 p. m. before moving again. It was obvious that the Jap skipper was afraid to get under way much before dark because of American submarines operating off the Philippines.

When we did begin to move I had visions of seeing Corregidor again, for we were to pass The Rock. I wanted to see what the Japs had done to it since I was led away from it three months before. But as we came within range of The Rock a Jap guard came into our stateroom and made us close and black out the portholes.

When I first heard about conditions below decks I made an effort to get down there to see my men, but I was stopped and told to go back to the cabin. Johnny Pugh, Tom Dooley and Sgt. Carroll all managed to get up to our space for short periods, to fill me in on what was happening.

On August 14, 1942, at the end of a two-day voyage, we arrived outside the breakwater of the almost completely land-locked harbor at Takao, on the west coast of Formosa. The hills along the shoreline had been cut through by a canal and apparently what was now the harbor had been low-lying ground or a swamp area which had been dredged. There were no docks in the harbor, which was, indeed, a striking one.

Our ship came in through the canal and anchored just off the stern of the old President Harrison, of the President Lines. The Japs had seized

WANT FREE PRESS PROVISIONS ON BILLS

WASHINGTON, Nov. 3.—(AP)—A strong House group disclosed plans today to attach to every future bill aid to foreign governments "free press" requirements similar to those put into an UNRRA appropriation measure this week.

Specifically the group proposes to restrict any foreign loans to nations which give United States reporters full access to news abroad.

The amendment to the appropriation bill does that insofar as the gathering of news about United Nations relief and rehabilitation administration activities is concerned. The Senate, however, has not yet acted on that measure.

Still in the House Legislative mill is a bill authorizing a new grant of $130,000,000 to UNRRA. This is in addition to the $550,000,000 fund to which the rider was attached.

NEW ANTI-ZIONIST RIOTS SUPPRESSED

CAIRO, Nov. 3.—(AP)—Club-swinging police quickly suppressed a new outbreak of anti-Zionist rioting today when rampaging mobs for the second day stoned business establishments and smashed shop windows in downtown Cairo.

The riots, which killed nine persons and injured 520 in Cairo and Alexandria, were strongly denounced by Premier Nokrashi Pasha as inspired by "evil hands." He promised "justice will take its full course with the criminals."

Most of Cairo had returned to normal this afternoon.

The renewed demonstrations lasted less than an hour, but crowds surged through Soliman Pasha street, one of Cairo's most fashionable shopping centers, smashing numerous windows and stoning the Metro Cinema, operated by Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer.

16 GOVERNORS NAMED RIO DE JANEIRO, Nov. 3.—(AP)—The new government of President Jose Linhares named 16 new state governors today to replace the appointees of the ousted Vargas regime, and the army which put Linhares into power resumed its normal functions.

SALE OF BONDS LAGGING BADLY

War Finance Committee Urges Public To Aid Government

The Victory Loan for Ouachita parish has opened and the start off is most disappointing. Ouachita's quota is as follows: E, $385,000; F and G, $457,000, a total of $1,042,000, for and dividends. Up to Saturday there had been purchased in the parish but $33,381.33 E bonds, $41,377.50 F and G bonds, and $38,000 in miscellaneous bonds.

The people of this parish have done an outstanding job in all past War Bond Drives and the War Finance Committee feel that we can do no less than fulfill our obligation toward our government and fill the quota asked for by purchasing all possible bonds.

Some may think the war is over but they must realize that it is not over for many boys who are still scattered all over the globe and it is our duty to see them through to the end.

The committee in charge asks that if you have not bought bonds to see that you do so at the earliest moment so that Ouachita may again be proud to have made the goal.

LABOR PARTY GAINS

LONDON, Nov. 3.—(AP)—Final returns from London's 28 boroughs and from 154 of the biggest boroughs in the provinces tonight gave the Labor party 2,977 city and town council seats in Thursday's local elections—a gain of 1,245 over the 1939 elections. The Conservatives lost 769 seats, retaining only 111 seats after losing 134.

The various independents—most of them with Conservative leanings—lost 357 seats and held only 501. The Communists won 22 seats, a gain of 15.

16 GERMANS GIVEN MILITARY FUNERALS

FORT CUSTER, Mich., Nov. 3.—(AP)—Mass funeral services with full military honors, including a guard of honor, were held today for 16 German prisoners of war killed Wednesday in a truck-train accident.

Red, white and black flags of the old German republic, minus the swastika, rushed here from Philadelphia, draped the caskets while prisoners clad in cast-off American army clothing acted as pallbearers.

All members of the honor guard were American overseas veterans. Their overseas stripes, ribbons and patches stood out as they fired the regulation three volleys over German graves.

Prisoners of war are buried in the post cemetery and at some later date the bodies may be removed to Germany.

Civil War Worries American Officials

Fear Internal Strife May Prevent China From Contributing To Establishment Of World Peace

CHUNGKING, Nov. 3.—(AP)—A north China provincial capital and a railway city fell today to attacking Chinese Communists, unofficial reports said, as Reds in Chungking received with skepticism a new four-point Nationalist proposal to end the spreading civil warfare.

Unconfirmed reports said Kweisui, capital of the partly-industrialized inner Mongolian province of Suiyuan, fell to the overwhelming force of Communists who opened the attack only yesterday.

These same reports said the vital railway city of Tatung to the southwest also was overrun by the Communists.

If true, the twin victories would greatly strengthen the Communist position in inner Mongolia and would hamper attempts by slender Nationalist forces there to join up with fresh Nationalist troops now pouring in by air to the Peiping-Tientsin zone.

Despite these reported successes, Communist sources here expressed fears that the government was about to strike with a heavy offensive to crush the Reds and declared 800,000 Nationalist troops had been massed in northern and east-central China.

A Communist spokesman declared without confirmation elsewhere that fighting had spread to Manchuria, now being evacuated by Russian occupation forces.

The spokesman countered the Chungking peace proposal with this statement: "When all Kuomintang (Nationalist) troops throughout the country are asked to stop fighting, the Communists will do likewise."

K. C. Wu, Chungking minister of information, announced the new peace plan earlier in the day and said a reply was being awaited from the Communist stronghold in Yenan.

He listed these four points: 1. Both sides should order their troops to "stay put" and halt all attacks.

2. The Communists should withdraw 10 kilometers (6.2 miles) from the railroads.

3. The government would consult Communists before moving any troops along the railroads. This conformed with a Communist request but skipped the question of moving government troops by sea and air.

4. The Peoples' Political Council should appoint a supervisory commission to investigate conditions along the railroads and report any violation by either side.

The nationalist peace proposals, the Communist spokesman said, would restrict the government's cease fire order "to a few hot spots" whereas it should apply all over the country.

He agreed to the plan to turn the railways over to police but insisted that Chungking's offer did not include two of the most important railways—the Peiping-Mukden and Tientsin-Pukow railways, both now largely Communist controlled.

Government quarters said the new peace proposals were concessions inspired by a genuine desire to halt hostilities.

Sentiment through China is overwhelmingly against civil war but pessimists assert that both sides are stalling.

Communists sources in Yenan and Chungking declared that government troops massing for an all-out offensive already had surrounded Communist forces in western Honan and eastern Hubei provinces of northwest China.

The same sources claimed China's new sixth army, equipped and trained by the Americans in North China, had launched a powerful attack along the Tientsin-Pukow railroad, badly damaged artery over which Chungking proposes to move troops from Nanjing to northern China.

The air was thick with rumors and accusations. One source here said that Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek and his generals had reason to believe that Russia would remain neutral in event of a final fight between nationalists and Chinese Communists—and that therefore Chiang may at-

100,000 INDONESIAN TROOPS ARE CONCENTRATING IN JAVA

BATAVIA, Nov. 3.—(AP)—Indonesian troops up to 100,000 strong and bearing Japanese arms are marching and concentrating in Central Java, British pilots said today, while political tension heightened over the Dutch government's refusal to deal with President Soekarno of the "Indonesian republic."

A second division of British troops, the Fifth Indian, landed in Java. Although no new fighting was reported, the British described the situation at Magelang as "turbulent" and at the Soerabaya naval base as "tense." Indonesians were building road blocks in the Soerabaya area.

A 10 p. m. curfew was clamped on all British troops in Batavia. All personnel were ordered to carry arms at all times and not to appear without escort.

A military intelligence report said an unidentified "major general" had appeared at Jogjakarta to "lead, discipline and reorganize Indonesian youths" estimated to number approximately 100,000.

The youths were said to possess captured Japanese arms and equipment, including machine guns, tanks, mortars, and armored cars. Aerial reconnaissance disclosed Indonesian troops marching in the areas of Jogjakarta, Magelang and Soerakarta, three principal cities in Central Java. Large numbers of men were seen pouring into the area by motor transport and by train.

Pilots said Indonesian raids had burned out half the town of Keborajan, south of Batavia. In this region Dutch troops have been holding out successfully against an estimated 30,000 Indonesians attacking in packs of a hundred or more.

In Batavia a grim view was taken of the political situation following the Dutch home government's announcement that acting Lt. Governor-General Hubertus Van Hook had acted contrary to instructions in meeting with Soekarno.

Van Hook has tried desperately to solve Holland's gravest colonial problem by negotiations.

MOVES TO AVERT FAMINE IN JAPAN

TOKYO, Nov. 3.—(AP)—General MacArthur moved today to avert a winter fuel-famine in Japan by asking American commanders in China, Korea and the Pacific Islands to give priority to coal-miners in the repatriation of Japanese military forces.

The general's action was prompted by a 50 per cent decrease in coal production on Hokkaido, the northern island from which Japan, now short of its far-flung imperial resources, will have to get most of its supply for the hard winter ahead.

MacArthur said the decrease was largely due to the evacuation from Japan of Korean and Chinese miners. The imperial government has estimated that 68,000 Japanese miners were sent overseas with the armed forces during the war.

Stars and Stripes in Yokohama published the assurance of army authorities that American troops in Japan will not suffer for want of warm clothing this winter. The paper said ships were unloading enough supplies to assure every soldier one sleeping bag and three blankets, and a stove for every five men.

Joint meeting Monday night when the largest class in the history of the post will be inducted into membership, stated C. B. Braun, adjutant. Mothers or other close friends of those being initiated are invited to attend and the exercises are expected to be unusually impressive. The membership quota for the year 1945-1946, it is expected, will be realized at this meeting and will be the largest ever for the post in Monroe. At the meeting plans will be announced for the Armistice Day observance when 154 men in arms who lost their lives will be accorded recognition for their supreme sacrifice and mothers or next of kin will be given each a gold star citation.

1,000 ENROLLED FOR TECH TERM

More Are Expected To Enter During The Present Week

RUSTON, La., Nov. 3.—(Special)—Louisiana Tech's enrollment for the term beginning November 1 reached exactly one thousand today, and an additional thirty or forty newcomers are expected to be added to the rolls before the final deadline for registration on November 7, it was announced by the registrar today. Incomplete and unofficial registration figures of Tech's first peacetime enrollment in almost four years showed a jump of more than 30 per cent in civilian enrollment, and the largest total exclusive of military personnel since the fall of 1942, when 1,333 persons were counted. Total enrollment for the last trimester was 927, with 743 civilian students and the remainder consisting of naval V-12 trainees. Loss of this unit with the end of the summer session was more than offset by returning veterans and increased freshman registration, the figures showed. With 406 men students already counted, a gain of more than 70 per cent over the preceding trimester enrollment of 231 civilian men was recorded. Of this number, approximately 85 are returned veterans. The number of women enrolled for the fall trimester showed a gain of about 15 per cent, with 594 registered now compared to 513 for the summer session.

4-H CLUBS ARE WINNERS IN FAIR

Awards Announced As Result Of Shreveport Exhibition Last Week

The 4-H Club exhibits at the La. State Fair this year in poultry, beef cattle, dairy cattle, swine, food preservation, clothing, cotton, and corn surpassed expectations. The 4-H Club members did a good job in the Food Production Program during the war and the results of this good work were shown by the Club in their exhibits. The 4-H winners from Ouachita Parish, as announced by Audrey H. Dawson, Associate Home Agent and E. A. Fulmer, Associate County Agent were as follows: In heifers, 18 to 30 months of age, a beautiful animal owned by John Landrum placed first. In the group of calves, 2 to 3 years of age, an animal owned by Charles Venable placed third—while in the 9 to 12 month old group, a young animal owned by Buddy Willis placed second. A young bull owned by Ernest Venable placed first in its class. The "County Herd" from Ouachita

Parish placed third—while the parish group, consisting of 8 heifers, placed fifth. Two beef calves owned by Charles Venable placed eleventh and sixteenth in a group of 55. Charles Venable placed third in Showmanship, and James McMullin placed fourth. In the poultry division a white leg-horn cockerel, owned by Connie Young placed first in its class and was judged champion cockerel of its breed. A white wyandotte cockerel owned by Laverne Waggoner also placed first in its class and judged champion cockerel of the breed. A pullet won second place in its class. The five chickens entered by Laverne were judged the best display of white Wyandottes in the 4-H division. Beverly Aldridge, a Junior Club member, exhibited 5 White Rock chickens at the fair. For this display of birds Beverly Ann received the honor of being the best girl exhibitor of poultry in the 4-H division. The cockerel exhibited in this group was judged first in its class and champion cockerel of its breed. Betty Laura Aldridge entered five varieties of canned vegetables and placed first. Patsy Alexander entered a pint of Dixie Relish and placed first. A party costume entered by Betty Aldridge placed second, and a pair of pajamas also placed second. A child's dress and a cotton slip entered by Beverly Aldridge placed first. The two Associate Agents point out that competition in all 4-H exhibits was keener than in past years, and those boys and girls who won premiums in such competition deserve all the praise and encouragement that can be given.

Lt. and Mrs. Thomas A. Shanks, Atlanta, Ga., are visiting Mrs. Shanks' family. Mr. and Mrs. Sheffield John. Lt. Shanks has just returned from 33 missions as navigator on a B-29. He was awarded the air medal with three oak leaf clusters, two battle stars and a presidential unit citation. Mrs. Shanks was formerly Miss Martha Lena John, Monroe. After their visit here they will return to Atlanta for a short stay before going to Indiana to visit other relatives. They will then go to California where the lieutenant is stationed.

BOOK WEEK HELD BY ST. MATTHEW'S

Celebration of Catholic Book Week November 4-11 at St. Matthew's school will consist of an exhibit of posters, reviews, portraits and biographies of Catholic authors with a display of Catholic books, secured through the courtesy of St. Matthew's Library or Ouachita Parish Library. At the beginning of the week the following members of the Catholic truth committee were presented in a book panel over KNOX: Chuck Anders, Gladden Noyes, Nishant Miller, Althea Burkett, Terry de Jaive and Otis Crow. On November 7, Mrs. Ben Beard will present the very popular book "The Scarlet Lake" by Reverend E. F. Murphy, before the student body. Other reviews are planned during the course of the month. The high school librarian, Sr. Magdalen, and her assistants, Misses Ann Laws, Norma de Gray, Marilyn Bellson and Joyce Danna, are cooperating with the school in making both Catholic Book Week, November 4-11, and National Book Week, November 11-17, a high positive campaign for increasing an interest in good reading which will last.

'OUACHITA LION' WINS 8TH TIME
The "Ouachita Lion," published by the students of Ouachita Parish High School and printed by the Monroe Printing Co., Inc., won for the eighth consecutive year an International First Place Award in a contest sponsored by the United States of America and the International Society of High School Journalists. In its capacity as high school paper is judged on its content, its layout, as a business enterprise, as a medium that informs, influences, and entertains its readers. According to the report sent to Mrs. E. B. Shivers, sponsor of the paper and head of the English department, the "Lion" scores high on all counts, being well known for its content, its layout, its business enterprise, its medium that informs, influences, and entertains its readers.

joint meeting Monday night when the largest class in the history of the post will be inducted into membership, stated C. B. Braun, adjutant. Mothers or other close friends of those being initiated are invited to attend and the exercises are expected to be unusually impressive. The membership quota for the year 1945-1946, it is expected, will be realized at this meeting and will be the largest ever for the post in Monroe. At the meeting plans will be announced for the Armistice Day observance when 156 men in arms who lost their lives will be honored with recognition for their supreme sacrifice and mothers or next of kin will be given each a gold star citation. PLANE ODDITY The first power-driven, heavier-than-air machine ever to carry man in flight—the original Wright airplane—although built, flown and acclaimed in America, today reposes in a museum of science in England.

1,000 ENROLLED FOR TECH TERM

More Are Expected To Enter During The Present Week

RUSTON, La., Nov. 3.—(Special)—Louisiana Tech's enrollment for the term beginning November 1 reached exactly one thousand today, and an additional thirty or forty newcomers are expected to be added to the rolls before the final deadline for registration on November 7, it was announced by the registrar today. Incomplete and unofficial registration figures of Tech's first peacetime enrollment in almost four years showed a jump of more than 30 per cent in civilian enrollment, and the largest total exclusive of military personnel since the fall of 1942, when 1,333 persons were counted. Total enrollment for the last trimester was 927, with 743 civilian students and the remainder consisting of naval V-12 trainees. Loss of this unit with the end of the summer session was more than offset by returning veterans and increased freshman registration, the figures showed. With '06 men students already counted, a gain of more than 70 per cent over the preceding trimester enrollment of 231 civilian men was recorded. Of this number, approximately 95 are returned veterans. The number of women enrolled for the fall trimester showed a gain of about 15 per cent, with 594 registered now compared to 513 for the summer session.

4-H CLUBS ARE WINNERS IN FAIR

Awards Announced As Result Of Shreveport Exhibition Last Week

The 4-H Club exhibits at the La. State Fair this year in poultry, beef cattle, dairy cattle, swine, food preservation, clothing, cotton, and corn surpassed expectations. The 4-H Club members did a good job in the Food Production Program during the war and the results of this good work were shown by the Club in their exhibits. The 4-H winners from Ouachita Parish, as announced by Audrey H. Dawson, Associate Home Agent and E. A. Fulmer, Associate County Agent were as follows: In heifers, 18 to 30 months of age, a beautiful animal owned by John Landrum placed first. In the group of calves, 2 to 3 years of age, an animal owned by Charles Venable placed third—while in the 9 to 12 month old group, a young animal owned by Buddy Willis placed second. A young bull owned by Ernest Venable placed first in its class. The "County Herd" from Ouachita

Parish placed third—while the parish group, consisting of 8 heifers, placed fifth. Two beef calves owned by Charles Venable placed eleventh and sixteenth in a group of 55. Charles Venable placed third in Showmanship, and James McMullin placed fourth. In the poultry division a white leg-horn cockerel, owned by Connie Young placed first in its class and was judged champion cockerel of its breed. A white wyandotte cockerel owned by Laverne Waggoner also placed first in its class and judged champion cockerel of the breed. A pullet won second place in its class. The five chickens entered by Laverne were judged the best display of white Wyandottes in the 4-H division. Beverly Aldridge, a Junior Club member, exhibited 5 White Rock chickens at the fair. For this display of birds Beverly Ann received the honor of being the best girl exhibitor of poultry in the 4-H division. The cockerel exhibited in this group was judged first in its class and champion cockerel of its breed. Betty Laura Aldridge entered five varieties of canned vegetables and placed first. Patsy Alexander entered a pint of Dixie Relish and placed first. A party costume entered by Betty Aldridge placed second, and a pair of pajamas also placed second. A child's dress and a cotton slip entered by Beverly Aldridge placed first. The two Associate Agents point out that competition in all 4-H exhibits was keener than in past years, and those boys and girls who won premiums in such competition deserve all the praise and encouragement that can be given.

MORE AIRLINE SERVICES SEEN

Chamber Of Commerce And Twin Cities Will Be Represented

Additional airline services for the Twin Cities will probably result from a hearing of the Civil Aeronautics Board to be held in New Orleans, beginning Monday, it was announced by Wood Thompson, president of the Chamber of Commerce. The Chamber of Commerce and the cities of Monroe and West Monroe will be represented at this important hearing by Owen R. Smith, research director and assistant chamber manager. Forty-eight applications by airline companies for new and extended routes will be considered by the C. A. B. in this lower Mississippi valley hearing, which is the largest and most important hearing ever held by the C. A. B. and will set the future air-line pattern of Louisiana, east and south Texas, Mississippi, Alabama, Missouri and Tennessee. Mr. Smith said. Four of these applications are asking for added airline service to the Twin Cities.

The Chamber of Commerce filed an intervention in these cases, in behalf of the cities of Monroe and West Monroe and is a party to these cases, asserting that these cities have a definite and substantial interest in several of the applications that have been filed by airline companies and potential airline operators who wish to render additional air transportation facilities to our community.

Delta Air Corporation now shows here with six flights per day on its Atlanta-Dallas route. This company also has facilities in and renders service to Shreveport, Alexandria, Baton Rouge and New Orleans. Delta's present application requests permission to initiate a direct route from Shreveport, Monroe, Baton Rouge and New Orleans. If this application is granted by the Civil Aeronautics Board, Delta would offer two flights daily to the south Louisiana cities and two scheduled flights from New Orleans, Baton Rouge, Monroe and Shreveport. The proposed schedule lists 50 minutes between Monroe and Baton Rouge and 43 minutes from the state capital to the Crescent City.

Eagle Air Lines, a subsidiary of the Missouri Pacific Railroad Company, proposes an air route from Little Rock to Lake Charles via Monroe and Alexandria and from St. Louis to Monroe via Memphis. By transferring Alexandria from route 11 to route 3, a Monrovia could have an air trip to Baton Rouge and New Orleans if the C. A. B. okay both of these routes.

South Central Air Transport, Inc. requests to initiate feeder lines between Monroe and El Dorado, Ark. and El Dorado, Ark. to Monroe. This route would include eight cities including El Dorado, Ark. and El Dorado, Ark. The entire route would require two hours and 20 minutes. This other proposed route, requested by this company, would have Monroe and Alexandria as terminals and include Baton Rouge and Coushatta among the seven cities on the route.

Southern Airlines, a subsidiary of Southern Bus Lines, proposes three feeder line routes that would include Monroe. Route number 14 is a circular route out of Jackson and it has ten scheduled stops including Greenville, Miss., El Dorado, Ruston, Monroe, Delhi and Vicksburg. Route number 19 out of Shreveport would stop at nine cities including Minden, Ruston, Monroe, and Alexandria. Route number 24 is also out of Shreveport and would link Homer, El Dorado, Farmerville, Monroe and four other cities.

Mr. Smith has been authorized by the twin cities and the Chamber of Commerce to appear at this hearing in behalf of the cities of Monroe and West Monroe. He will present an oral statement asserting the airline needs of Monroe based on route basis and not in direct support of any specific airline. It is the policy of the Chamber of Commerce Aviation Committee to assist all applicants who wish to provide additional air service to this community.

The proposed schedule lists 59 minutes between Monroe and Baton Rouge and 43 minutes from the state capital to the Crescent City.

Eagle Air Lines, a subsidiary of the Missouri Pacific Railroad Company, proposes an air route from Little Rock to Lake Charles via Monroe and Alexandria and from St. Louis to Monroe via Memphis. By transferring at Alexandria from route 11 to route 3 a Monroyan could have an all-air trip to Baton Rouge and New Orleans if the C. A. B. okays both of these routes.

South Central Air Transport, Inc. requests to initiate feeder lines between Monroe and Fayetteville, Arkansas. This route would include eight cities including Ft. Smith, Camden and El Dorado. The entire terminal would require two hours and 38 minutes. The other proposed route requested by this company would have Monroe and Arkadelphia as terminals and include Bastrop and Crossett among the seven cities on the route.

Southern Airlines, a subsidiary of Southern Bus Lines, proposes three feeder line routes that would include Monroe. Route number 14 is a circular route out of Jackson and it has ten scheduled stops including Greenville, Miss., El Dorado, Ruston, Monroe, Delhi and Vicksburg. Route number 19 out of Shreveport would stop at nine cities including Minden, Ruston, Monroe, and Alexandria. Route number 24 is also out of Shreveport and would link Homer, El Dorado, Farmerville, Monroe and four other cities.

Mr. Smith has been authorized by the twin cities and the Chamber of Commerce to appear at this hearing in behalf of the cities of Monroe and West Monroe. He will present an oral statement asserting the airline needs of Monroe based on route basis and not in direct support of any specific airline. It is the policy of the Chamber of Commerce Aviation Committee to assist all applicants who wish to provide additional air service to this community.

HIGGINS PLANT PROBE DEMANDED

New Orleans A. F. L. Officials Want Congress To Act

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 3.—(AP)—A congressional investigation into the closing of three boat building plants of Higgins Industries, Inc., was demanded today by officials of American Federation of Labor unions here.

William L. Donnels, A. F. of L. publicity chairman, announced that the labor chiefs would take formal action at a meeting scheduled for Monday.

Donnels said in a statement that, if Congress fails to act, 15,000 to 20,000 A. F. of L. members in the New Orleans area would be asked to leave their jobs for 21 hours, "in a demonstration of union reaction" to the closing of the plants.

He said previous requests for a congressional investigation had been ignored and "this time we want, and mean to get, action."

Andrew J. Higgins, head of the company, ordered the plants closed last Thursday, in the midst of a walkout by 2,000 A. F. of L. men, who were protesting his refusal to negotiate a new contract with them.

Higgins told his more than 400 dealers today by telegram that he was forced to discontinue manufacture, because of "oppression" by the labor unions. He assured the dealers that they would get their pleasure boats of Higgins design "regardless of where it may be built."

The industrialist was invited today to move his plants to Milwaukee, but Morris Gottsman, secretary-treasurer at Higgins, replied that the company would not attempt to operate elsewhere.

Meanwhile, Gottsman, in an interview with the Associated Press, is believed as "snooty" recommendation made today in Washington by the War Labor Board's shipbuilding commission in a pending case involving the Higgins-A. F. of L. labor dispute.

The commission denied the principal point at issue, a request by Higgins that war veterans be allowed exemption from union membership, despite a proposed contract providing for a union shop.

"It is all a moot question under the present circumstances," Gottsman said. "Higgins industries is under orderly liquidation. They can pay any debt they want to now."

Gottsman valued the three closed plants at $100,000.

Also still in progress here is a National Labor Relations Board hearing on a petition filed by the C. I. O. which is claiming a majority of the workers as its members.

Higgins said he could not, under N. L. R. B. ruling, negotiate for a new contract, pending N. L. R. B. action on the petition.

In a statement from Washington today, John G. Lewis, president of the C. I. O., denounced Higgins' move and said shipbuilding workers of America declared:

"If the National Labor Relations Board had been able to fulfill its original function, the liquidation of Higgins Industries would have been averted. Instead, it has become a case of liquidation of a union to replace workers."

A. F. of L. leaders here said they would follow the Higgins plant action here today and would not permit any work on a falling high tide.

MISSION TO GET CLOTHES, DRUGS

In protest of the closing of Higgins Industries, a group of about 200 men, women and children, including many children, are on a mission to get clothes and drugs for the needy in the city.

The group, which is led by a woman, is expected to be in the city for several days, and will be working in various areas of the city.

Boyle's Notebook

By Hal Boyle

TOKYO.—(AP)—The middle-aged major had had a hard day at the office with red tape. He just couldn't seem to get enough to get the job done. To get anything done in the army—in war or peace time—you have to have a certain amount of cardinal hue and ribbon.

When the major reached his hotel at dusk there was a long line in the lobby. His fellow officers were lining up for their daily post exchange supplies. Automatically the major fell in line.

It was the same sad conglomeration of useful and useless articles.

After moving forward step by step for 15 minutes the major reached the fountainhead of all this Yankee ingenuity.

To a Japanese citizen it would have been wealth untold. To the major and the other jaded officers it was just an uninspiring rerun of the scene they had been through too many times before.

"Cookies?" Asked a bored corporal, taking his order. "Candy bars, chewing gum, razor blades, shaving cream, talcum powder, toilet soap, hair oil, tooth paste?"

"Shoot the works," said the major. "Got any matches, fountain pens or cigarette lighters?"

"You kidding, Sir?" Asked the corporal as he laid out the other items. The major peeled off some yen, tucked up his ration and took the elevator to his room.

There he drew a hot bath and washed up with his knees clanking like ears in the tiny Japanese bathtub as he scrubbed himself fragrant with his new bar of patented anti-odor soap. Then he put on a fresh razor blade and shaved. Afterward, he vigorously doosed himself with his fresh talcum.

Next he brushed his teeth. He looked critically at his balding pate in a mirror. Cautious work he opened the bottle of hair oil and vigorously rubbed it into his hair. When he combed his hair he noticed with a sigh that it still was falling out.

He opened his package of chewing gum and chewed a piece, barely. He tried to read a two-month-old news magazine but was too restless. He picked up the telephone and asked the desk what movie was being shown in the dining room.

"What?" He asked, disappointed. "Nothing on until tomorrow night?"

"Just what the hell do I do in Tokyo to keep from going crazy?"

Three miles away a 20-year-old private from the major's office ran into his billet and hollered to a comrade: "Lend me a razor, Mac, quick! That jerk major kept me late tonight! I thought he would never go home. Sure in hell I'll be late."

He shaved with quick decisive strokes. He slipped downstairs to the kitchen and gulped some warm coffee and left-overs.

He ran for the doorway, still chewing. At a half run he galloped to a nearby park, where a shadowy, giggly, slant-eyed Japanese girl waited for him by an evergreen tree under a bright autumn moon. Together they shared the sandwich of cold meat loaf he pulled from his pocket. Then, head against head, they sat on a park bench and watched the moon swim through cloudy skies. His arm slowly stole over her shivering shoulder.

In his comfortable hotel room the fat major snuggled off the light, tossed away a two-bit detective novel with a grunt of discontent and prepared for sleep.

"What," he grumbled, "is there to do in this forsaken country anyway?"

EX-SENATOR TO SPEAK AT TECH

James P. Pope, Jonesboro Born, Will Be Semi-Centennial Guest

RUSTON, La., Nov. 3.—(Special)—James Pinckney Pope, director of the Tennessee Valley Authority, Knoxville, Tenn., who will be the featured speaker at Louisiana Tech's semi-centennial observance on November 17, once was known as the "champion cotton picker of Jackson parish," his friends here recall.

Many Ruston people and Tech alumni have watched with interest the progress made by the Jackson parish native who got his start as a student at the college here.

Formerly United States senator from Idaho, Pope was born on a farm near Jonesboro on March 31, 1884.

During his early youth Pope worked in cotton fields to finance his education and while thus engaged achieved the cotton-picking title of his parish. He attended the University of Chicago Law School, graduating in 1909 with the LL. B. degree. After graduation, he worked his way to England on a cattle boat, and accompanied by a friend toured England on a bicycle.

Returning to America, Pope decided to locate on the West coast and got as far as Boise, Idaho, where he located in October, 1909. He was admitted to the bar in November, 1909, and engaged in the private practice of law continuously until his election to the United States Senate.

He served as city attorney for Boise in 1916, and was assistant attorney-general of Idaho for the next two years. He was elected mayor of Boise in April, 1923, and reelected in 1931 without opposition.

On November 8, 1932, he was elected to the United States Senate, defeating the Republican incumbent, John Thomas.

Senator Pope was married in 1913 to Miss Pauline Ruth Horn. They are the parents of two sons, Ross P. and George A. Pope.

BRITISH WOMEN ARE DISPLAYED BY JAPS

LONDON, Nov. 3.—(AP)—It was a "common occurrence" for sex-crazed Japanese in Malaya to strip British women and place them naked in shop windows on public display a week at a time, a high-ranking British officer reported today to the United Nations War Crimes Commission.

The officer, whose name was withheld by the commission, asserted that he and "I hope they will be" officials of the commission the that 19 Japanese men and out of other female Japs were taken to "bury" them.

HIGGINS PLANT PROBE DEMANDED

New Orleans A. F. L. Officials Want Congress To Act

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 3.—(AP)—A congressional investigation into labor disputes, which have resulted in the closing of three big building plants of Higgins Industries, Inc., was demanded today by officials of American Federation of Labor unions here.

William L. Donnels, A. F. of L. publicity chairman, announced that the labor chiefs would take formal action at a meeting scheduled for Monday.

Donnels said in a statement that, if Congress fails to act, 75,000 to 100,000 A. F. of L. members in the New Orleans area would be asked to leave their jobs for 24 hours, "in a demonstration of union reaction" to the closing of the plants.

He said previous requests for a congressional investigation had been ignored and "this time we want, and mean to get, action."

Andrew J. Higgins, head of the company, ordered the plants closed last Thursday, in the midst of a walkout by 2,000 A. F. of L. men, who were protesting his refusal to negotiate a new contract with them.

Higgins told his more than 400 dealers today by telegram that he was forced to discontinue manufacture, because of "oppression" by the labor unions. He assured the dealers that they would get their pleasure boats of Higgins-design "regardless of where it may be built."

The industrialist was invited today to move his plants to Milwaukee, but Morris Gottesman, secretary-treasurer at Higgins, replied that the company would not attempt to operate elsewhere.

Meantime, Gottesman, in an interview with the Associated Press, labelled as "moot" recommendations made today in Washington by the War Labor Board's shipbuilding commission in a pending case involving the Higgins-A. F. of L. labor dispute.

The commission denied the principal point at issue—a request by Higgins that war veterans be allowed exemption from union membership, despite a proposed contract providing for a union shop.

"It is all a moot question under the present circumstances," Gottesman said. "Higgins industries is under orderly liquidation. They can pass any edict they want to now."

Gottesman valued the three closed plants at $10,000,000.

Also still in progress here is a National Labor Relations Board hearing on a petition filed by the C. I. O., which is claiming a majority of the workers as members.

Higgins has said that he could not, under N. L. R. B. ruling, negotiate for a new contract, pending N. L. R. B. action on an election.

In a statement from Washington today, John Green, president of the C. I. O. Industrial Union of Marine and Shipbuilding Workers of America, declared:

"If the National Labor Relations Board had been able to fulfill its original function, the conduct of Democratic plant elections for choice of a union to represent workers, instead of spending its time and money taking Smith-Connally strikes votes, Mr. Higgins would not have had to close down his yards."

A. F. of L. pickets remained on duty before the Higgins plant gates here today and the head of the company went on a fishing trip to the bayous.

MISSION TO GET CLOTHES, DRUGS

In preparation for a mission tour, December 8, to the colored mission conducted by the Daughters of the Cross in Marksville, the Apostolic committee of St. Matthew's High School sodality has been having an intensified drive for clothes and medicines. Several boxes, earlier in the month, were sent to the missions of the Daughters of the Cross in France. The present drive is for the home missions. Another campaign for toys and canned goods will get under way in November.

The chairman of this committee, Alice Rolleigh, reports excellent results from the drive so far. The drug samples secured from doctors and drug stores number 608 and there were 721 articles of clothing brought in by the sodalists.

Included in this committee of mission workers are: Misses Pat Shaughnessy, Margaret Crow and Colleen White with the help of Joe Guirlando and Frank Lane.

GETS LIFE SENTENCE

BRUSSELS, Nov. 3.—(AP)—Nicholas Van Campenhout, who amassed near $2,000,000 selling bells taken from Belgian churches, was convicted by the high court today of selling the metal to German munitions firms during the occupation and was sentenced to life imprisonment.

Accused

I've been accused of being a "Yes Man" ... and come to think of it—I am! Which is only logical, after all, for the more times I say "Yes" the more loans I make. And since making Personal Loans is my full-time business that's mighty important to me.

Usually I can say "Yes" in a hurry. But, even when circumstances are unusual, I try to find a way to work out a deal. That's why we are so often able to make loans that others cannot.

Of course—once in a while I can't find a way. That's natural. When that happens, I personally sit down with the customer and discuss the situation frankly, on a common sense basis.

Like most people, I don't believe in unnecessary borrowing ... but when a loan is needed or to your advantage, I'll be glad to say "Yes." Anytime you need extra cash—see me, would you? Right now, for instance. See me at Personal Finance Co., 2nd floor, Bernhardt Building or phone me at 1238.

"Shoot the works," said the major. "Got any matches, fountain pens or cigarette lighters?"

"You kidding, Sir?" Asked the corporal as he laid out the other items. The major peeled off some yen, picked up his rations and took the elevator to his room.

There he drew a hot bath and doubled up with his knees flanking his ears in the tiny Japanese bathtub as he scrubbed himself fragrant with his new bar of patented anti-odor soap. Then he put in a fresh razor blade and shaved. Afterward, he vigorously doused himself with his fresh talcum.

Next he brushed his teeth. He looked critically at his balding pate in a mirror. Conscientiously he opened the bottle of hair oil and vigorously rubbed in a handful. When he combed his hair he noticed with a sigh that it still was falling out.

He opened his package of chewing gum and chewed a piece, boredly. He tried to read a two-month-old news magazine but was too restless. He picked up the telephone and asked the desk what movie was being shown in the dining room.

"What?" He asked, disappointed. "Nothing on until tomorrow night?"

He reached disconsolately for his chocolate bar and began munching it, although he knew it would make him put on more weight.

"Now," he murmured disconsolately. "Just what the hell do I do in Tokyo to keep from going crazy?"

Three miles away a 20-year-old private from the major's office ran into his billet and hollered to a comrade: "Lend me a razor, Mac, quick! That jerk major kept me late tonight! I thought he would never go home. Sure in hell I'll be late."

He shaved with quick decisive strokes. He slipped downstairs to the kitchen and gulped some warm coffee and left-overs.

He ran for the doorway, still chewing.

At a half run he galloped to a nearby park, where a shadowy, zigzag, slant-eyed Japanese girl waited for him by an evergreen tree under a bright autumn moon. Together they shared the sandwich of cold meat loaf he pulled from his pocket. Then, head against head, they sat on a park bench and watched the moon swim through cloudy skies. His arm slowly stole over her snuggling shoulder.

In his comfortable hotel room the fat major snapped off the light, tossed away a two-bit detective novel with a grunt of discontent and prepared for sleep.

"What," he grumbled, "is there to do in this forsaken country anyway?"

PYTHIAN MEETS ARE TO BE HELD

El Miro Temple No. 187 will meet Monday at 7:30 p.m. Wesley Walters urges all members to come out to make final plans for initiations and election of officers.

The rank of Esquire will be conferred by Stonewall Lodge No. 8, Thursday at 7:30 p.m.

Pythian Sisters will meet November 12.

EX-SENATOR TO SPEAK AT TECH

James P. Pope, Jonesboro Born, Will Be Semi-Centennial Guest

RUSTON, La., Nov. 3.—(Special)—James Pinckney Pope, director of the Tennessee Valley Authority, Knoxville, Tenn., who will be the featured speaker at Louisiana Tech's semi-centennial observance on November 17, once was known as the "champion cotton picker of Jackson parish," his friends here recall.

Many Ruston people and Tech alumni have watched with interest the progress made by the Jackson parish native who got his start as a student at the college here.

Formerly United States senator from Idaho, Pope was born on a farm near Jonesboro on March 31, 1884.

During his early youth Pope worked in cotton fields to finance his education and while thus engaged achieved the cotton-picking title of his parish.

He attended the University of Chicago Law School, graduating in 1909 with the LL. B. degree. After graduation, he worked his way to England on a cattle boat, and accompanied by a friend toured England on a bicycle.

Returning to America, Pope decided to locate on the West coast and got as far as Boise, Idaho, where he located in October, 1909. He was admitted to the bar in November, 1909, and engaged in the private practice of law continuously until his election to the United States Senate.

He served as city attorney for Boise in 1916, and was assistant attorney-general of Idaho for the next two years. He was elected mayor of Boise in April, 1919, and reelected in 1921 without opposition.

On November 8, 1922, he was elected to the United States Senate, defeating the Republican incumbent, John Thomas.

Senator Pope was married in 1913 to Miss Pauline Ruth Horn. They are the parents of two sons, Ross P. and George A. Pope.

Fewer than 400 of the total 2,300 rural communities in the United States are provided with wholetime health officers.

DR. M'GEACHY IS CLOSING SERVICE

Rev. Dr. Daniel P. McGeachy, Jr., of Clearwater, Fla., will today close a one-week revival series at the First Presbyterian church which have been well attended and which have aroused much interest. The messages brought by this prominent pastor have been unusually appealing.

This morning he will take for the theme of the sermon "The Problem of the Good," and at the night service which will be his final one here, he will discuss "The Plan to Begin."

The public is cordially invited to hear this guest preacher and it is expected he will have large audiences at today's services.

BRITISH WOMEN ARE DISPLAYED BY JAPS

LONDON, Nov. 3.—(AP)—It was a "common occurrence" for sex-crazed Japanese in Malaya to strip British women and place them naked in shop windows on public display a week at a time, a high-ranking British officer reported today to the United Nations War Crimes Commission.

The officer, whose name was withheld by the commission, asserted that he and "I hope they will be officer to the commission the that 19 Japanese men and out and bayonet refused to submit to them."

Detainees were taken to a "Our other atrocities in front she was dead. I found a head wept over atrocious details were quite unprintable."

He suggested that the commission "show my letter to anyone who is sorry for the Japs."

SCHOOL TEACHER OF CALHOUN DIES

W. A. Hart, 74, of Calhoun, native of Ouachita parish and public school teacher for 45 years, died yesterday morning in a Ruston hospital.

Funeral services will be held this afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Calhoun

Methodist Church, and interment will follow in Calhoun Cemetery.

Mr. Hart, who was born in Ouachita parish in 1871 and lived all his life here, is survived by three daughters, Mrs. P. A. Johnston, Mrs. Clayton Calhoun, and Mrs. D. A. Johnston, all of West Monroe; two sons, Y. D. Hart, Ruston, and B. T. Hart, Shreveport; and a sister, Mrs. Mollie Grey.

Joseph Hewes, "father of the American Navy," and signer of the Declaration of Independence, was born in 1723.

(Victory Birthday)

Birthday

Thanks—To Our Many Friends

Next Sunday, November 11th, marks the celebration of the first birthday of the College Place Baptist Church, and at this time we will celebrate by bringing our birthday offering and we will also give genuine thanks to those who have helped us to accomplish the outstanding success which has been our good fortune in the past twelve months.

This page, one of the regular weekly series of religious publicity pages, has been made possible by the liberal cooperation of our Twin City merchants. Without your help in this way, dear friends, many of the special programs and church activities which have been fostered throughout the year would have been difficult. The College Place Baptist Church joins other churches in extending our sincere thanks to this group for their fine spirit of cooperation.

Celebration

Above is a drawing of our beautiful edifice now under construction and we invite the public to visit this construction project and watch its progress.

Our church has been greatly blessed of the Lord during the past year. Our membership has increased from 238 to 372. Our plans for our $52,000.00 church building have been approved and the contract was let October 1st. The contractor tells us that soon after February 15th we will be able to occupy the building. This gives us hope. This sets on fire our enthusiasm. So with the recommendation of the Finance Committee that we raise $10,000.00 for church furniture, chairs, pianos, song books, etc., we are looking forward to our V-B Day—Victory Birthday. Let each member be present and bring a liberal birthday offering to start us on the way to $10,000.00 by February.

SIGHT OF LOCAL MAN PLEASING

Maj. Jack Parker In Manila Made Glad By Meeting Lt. Moore

WITH THE ARMY FORCES, WESTERN PACIFIC, NEAR MANILA.—One of the first persons Major Jack M. Parker saw when he returned to the Philippines after spending upwards of three and one-half years in Japanese prison camps was Lt. Kip Moore—a life-long friend and neighbor from his home town of Monroe, La.

Major Parker deluged the lieutenant with questions of the home town, his wife and family, friends, neighbors, all of the changes that had occurred since the officer left Monroe on Memorial Day, May 30, 1941.

Lt. Moore, who has been in the Philippines over a year, is stationed with the 179th engineers, at A. P. O. 70, near Manila. On a routine business trip to the 29th replacement depot, replacement command, AFWESPAC, on September 17, the lieutenant remembered his old friend, and inquired at depot headquarters, thinking Major Parker might be one of the hundreds of recently liberated Allied prisoners of war who were being processed here for speedy return to their homelands. It was one chance in a million—but luck was with him, and a happy reunion followed. Major Parker will leave soon by naval transport for the states, and his primary thought is to hurry home to his wife, Fay, and five daughters, Shirley, Joan, Patsy, Nancy and Carol, whom he hasn't seen since early in 1941.

Major Parker, then a captain, came to Luzon in June, 1941, being stationed with the quartermaster corps, handling gasoline and oil supplies at Nichols Field until Jan. 1, 1942, when he moved with his unit to Bataan. The officer was captured by Jap assault units April 8, 1942, on Bataan, and was forced to make the infamous "Death March" from Marivales to San Fernando. Japanese cruelty, insufficient food, intense heat and lack of water made this march almost unbearable, he said. The major was one of a handful of Americans who completed this journey. "I saw American soldiers bayoneted because they tried to get a swallow of water from muddy carabao wallows along the dusty roadside," the major disclosed. At San Fernando, the officer and other Americans were jammed into a railroad box car, and made the final lap of their long journey to Camp O'Donnell by train. Ill from malnutrition and malaria, the officer remained hospitalized there until July 5, 1942, when he transferred to the Cabanatuan prison hospital. Later, when he was able to leave the hospital, the major worked on a rice and potato farm, but the recurrence of malarial attacks caused his removal to Japan September 21, 1943.

On Japan he was held at Amari prison, near Jap Headquarters in Tokyo, and later at Camp 5-B in Nagata prison, where he was finally liberated September 5, 1945, by an American naval force commanded by Commander Harold E. Stassen, ex-governor of Minnesota. Since his release, "I have been treated royally," the major said. "Everyone acts as if they cannot do enough for us, especially at the 29th depot," he added.

As the old friends bade each other goodbye, Major Parker said to Lt. Moore: "Take care of the Japs for me." The lieutenant is headed for Tokyo, while Major Parker is going home—to his wife, family, friends, his old civil service position—all of the things he left behind over three and one-half years ago.

There has been a 14 per cent increase in home consumption of American-made matches in the last six years.

DIRECTOR

Chaplain Autrey was pastor of the First Baptist Church of Fulton, Ky., before entering the service in June, 1942. He has had a wide experience in the pastorate and evangelistic field.

Chaplain Autrey served 40 months in the A. A. F. part of which time he was in the E. T. O. with the 78th fighter group.

The Autreys reside at 409 Mill street, West Monroe. Mr. Watts took over his duties as minister of music and education in the West Monroe First Baptist Church, September 15.

Mr. and Mrs. Watts are graduates of Baptist Bible Institute, New Orleans. Mr. Watts majoring in religious education and music and Mrs. Watts majoring in missionary education. The Watts came to us from the Allen Street Baptist Church, Charlotte, N. C. Before that time they served the West Laurel Baptist Church, Laurel, Miss., and the Franklin Avenue Baptist Church, New Orleans.

The Watts reside in the church's home for the educational director located at 508 Pine street, West Monroe.

CITY DIRECTORY IS JUST ISSUED

Estimated Population Of Twin Cities Is 44,000

The 1945-1946 C. B. Page directory of the Cities of Monroe and West Monroe has just been issued, printed by the Monroe Printing Co.

The book contains 542 pages in addition to the directory company's street and telephone guide and householders' directory. It is of special value as it is the first book of the nature to be published since the close of the war.

The estimated population of Monroe and West Monroe is placed at 44,000. The following statement appears in the introduction to the book:

"No large cities are located nearer than 100 miles to the Twin Cities, which creates a natural trade center and retail trade in 1939 in Monroe was second highest, based on comparable population, in the United States. Home ownership is a Twin City hobby and a very large per cent of residents are home owners. Monroe and West Monroe are in the center of a large agricultural district. Sixty-two per cent of the total income of 16 North-east Louisiana parishes comes from agriculture and 19 per cent from industry, providing well balanced sources of economic lifeblood for the trade interests of both wholesale and retail fields of the Twin Cities.

"According to a survey made by the Chamber of Commerce in 1944, there existed on January 1, 1945, a tangible backlog of postwar buying intentions in Monroe-West Monroe of $14,788,568. Included in this total were 658 new homes to be constructed, 1,139 homes to be purchased and 2,354 homes to be repaired and remodeled after the war."

PAUL LITTLE HAS NARROW ESCAPE

Paul Little, son of Joe Little, 60 Beard street, who attends Nevill High School, narrowly escaped death under the wheels of a moving freight train near the Five Points crossing Friday at 7:30 p.m.

The lad is said to have been on his way to school when the train stopped he endeavored to pass between freight cars. Instantly the train started and he was thrown violently and his left foot injured. Had he not been caught in his fall by J. L. New-comer, of 305 North Fifth street, employed by the Dr. Upper Boarding Co., he might have been crushed under the train.

An ambulance from Peters Funeral Service rushed him to St. Francis Sanitarium where it was found that foot was badly lacerated but will require no amputation. The physician in attendance was surprised to find that the bone was not fractured. One of the world's rarest stamps, the 1-cent magenta of 1854 issued by British Guiana, once changed hands for the sum of $38,000.

YVONNE LUSK IS COUNCIL CHIEF

Elected President Of Student Group At N. J. C.

Setting a precedent in the history of the Student Council at Northeast Junior College, members of the newly elected group chose a coed to yield the gavel this year. Yvonne Lusk, sophomore speech major from Epps, was named president when the organization held its first business meeting.

Other officers who will work with Miss Lusk during the current school year include: vice-president Fred Higginbotham, sophomore physical education major, and treasurer C. P. Moore, freshman engineering major. Both are from Bastrop. Martha Ann Scott, sophomore from Monroe, was chosen secretary.

Four freshmen and four sophomores were elected by secret ballot by the student body. These in turn voted for the ninth member of the council from students at large. Winners in the general election besides those named to office in the council include: Glenn Gossett, freshman physical education major from Arkansas; Doyle Hindman, Bastrop freshman; Jerry Roberts, Pioneer sophomore agriculture student; Walter Johnson, freshman physical education major from Greensburg, Pa.

Martha Carroll, Monroe freshman who is specializing in music, was selected as the ninth member by the council.

A. L. Tatum of the N. J. C. faculty is adviser to the Student Council. As a governing body of the students, the organization ranks first among campus organizations. Its purpose is to give consideration to all such matters as may concern the general interest of the students. The group promotes college spirit, co-operation between faculty and students, good conduct and high ideals among students and in campus activities.

NEGRO FESTIVAL PROVES SUCCESS

Thursday night, November 1, 1945, at the Carroll's Auditorium there were many to witness the affair of the close of the Tri-Parish Harvest Festival. Program entertainers were La Julia Rhea and Lewis Arson.

Catherine Hill, 402 S. 12th street, was chosen by the citizens of Monroe as Festival Queen.

The Festival was graced with a letter from King Cotton. It is the desire of all that the Festival Celebration become an annual affair.

The committee comprises: Rev. S. L. Jones, chairman, Rev. B. O. Martin, Marie Penn, and Edward Hill.

Shall the Ward Worker Boss Your Doctor?

MOST PEOPLE BELIEVE that the extension of Social Security benefits to more people is justified.

Under existing law, Employment Offices are maintained—under Federal and State control—to find jobs for the unemployed. Provisions are made for aid to the needy aged, the blind and for dependent children. Payments are made in cash.

NEW CONCEPT IN SOCIAL SECURITY

The new Wagner-Murray-Dingell Bill would place in the hands of the Federal Government responsibility for providing medical care and hospitalization for all Social Security beneficiaries and their dependents. Authority is to be given a single political office holder to hire doctors and establish rates of pay; to control and operate hospitals and actually dispense medical care to 110,000,000 people. No cash payments are involved. In effect, the Federal Government would establish 100,000 retail establishments, man them, and conduct the business of providing doctor, hospital and nursing services for the people.

Such procedure would involve making the doctor subordinate

DOCTOR REGIMENTATION MEANS LESS EFFECTIVE SERVICE

There are some people who really believe that in bureaucracy's vast pool of master minds there are individuals fully qualified to tell farmers what and how much they can sow and when and how to reap; other individuals competent to tell the oil wildcatter the size of the pipe and depth to which he is permitted to drill; and yet others with capacity to tell the newspaper editor what he can print and how he shall treat and headline his dispatches. It may be true.

No sane person can believe that any bureaucrat can direct the to the bureaucrat. It would mean the regimentation of the medical profession—if it worked. Actually, no laws could regiment the doctors. They could refuse to serve under conditions which would result in mechanical and ineffectual service—personal subservience and professional deterioration.

However, consummation of the plans inevitably would result in absolute regimentation of the people as far as medical care is concerned. They would be forced by law, to accept such medical care as could be provided by the politically appointed bureaucrat.

Such a development could be a fatal step toward complete totalitarian control over the lives and destinies of all men.

rendering of medical care without actual suicidal deterioration in the quality and effectiveness of the service that is provided. It is the ultimate in absurdities.

Unemployment benefits, Old Age benefits, protection for widows and orphans should be provided for all workers. But this is far different from having all people dependent on ward workers to select a doctor to treat a sick child. Such a condition is unthinkable.

Straight Talk about the Victory Loan

You are being asked to buy War Bonds—Victory Bonds, they are now—after the War is over.

Why?

All of us know, without being told, some of the reasons.

We know that a million and a quarter Americans were killed or wounded and that we must take care of the injured men and the families of the dead.

We know that there are still millions of Americans overseas and that we must bring them home as soon as we can and maintain them till they get here.

We know that the G. I. Bill of Rights gives these men—and rightly—mustering-out pay, loans, education—a chance to make up for the years they have lost—a chance to get a start in the free and peaceful world they won for all of us.

These facts are obvious—just as obvious as the fact that it will take a lot of money to handle the problems they present.

It's also obvious, when you come to think of it, that winding up a war as big as this one is expensive business in other ways. For instance, huge sums are still required to pay for war materials which were ordered, produced, and delivered some time ago.

These reasons for buying extra Bonds in the Victory Loan are clear and easily understood.

But there is another reason for making the Victory Loan a success which, perhaps, doesn't come so easily and clearly to mind:

In these years of war, the American people have displayed mighty sound judgment.

Man by man, family by family, group by group they have come to accept Bond buying as a way to obtain financial and economic security for themselves as individuals and for their country.

Whole communities have thus changed, in the last few years, from debt-ridden, hand-to-mouth groups to communities of solid citizens with a financial reserve, a financial stake in the American system, and a newly formed habit of regular saving.

As a result of this good judgment, we have been able to hold off a disastrous inflation, finance a good part of the costs of war, and save the incredible sum of 100 billion dollars.

And as a result of these accomplishments, we, as a nation, stand ready now to win our final battle in the fight to throw off the effects of war and get this country back, as fast as we can, on a solid, prosperous, peacetime economic basis.

To win this final battle, we need only keep on doing, for a little longer, the same things we did so well during 3½ years of war. We need to keep on saving until reconversion is complete.

The next few months will tell the story. And if, during this critical period, we will only use the brains, the will power, the energy, the enterprise, the materials and resources with which we won our war, we can't fail to win the peace and make this the richest, happiest land the world has known.

Making the Victory Loan a smashing success will be a clear notice of our intentions.

* Following the Victory Loan, the sale of E. F. and G. U. S. Savings Bonds will continue through regular authorized agencies and through the Payroll Savings Plan.

LOUISIANA WATER SUPPLY SURVEYED

One State And One Federal Department Cooperating In Work

BATON ROUGE, La., Nov. 3.—(AP)—One state and one federal department are cooperating in an extensive effort to keep Louisiana from going dry—but the liquid in this case is underground water.

Louisiana's public works department and a local division of the U. S. geological survey are conducting surveys which they believe will result in data of considerable value to industry and agriculture. The state wildlife department, interested in pollution, is aiding the study.

Specifically, they believe they are already in pretty good position to tell planners of a new factory whether a tentatively selected site is over enough water to supply plant needs, and to warn rice growers, for instance, whether they are drawing too heavily on their indispensable supplies.

Some idea of the extent and value of their surveys is indicated by estimates by R. H. Jones, U. S. geologist here, that Louisiana's daily consumption of underground water is more than 500 million gallons, and that maximum daily consumption probably exceeds a billion gallons.

Irrigation, for instance, withdraws an estimated 120 billion gallons a year to help rice in southwestern Louisiana and strawberries in southeastern Louisiana.

LABOR, BUSINESS FIREWORKS SEEN

Storm Sessions Are Expected At Washington Conferences

WASHINGTON, Nov. 3.—(AP)—All the signs in this jam-packed city today pointed toward some stormy sessions when leaders of labor and business sit down together next week for discussions which will chart the course of the nation's future labor-management relations.

Representatives of both labor and business have professed publicly their optimism over the results expected from the labor-management conference opening Monday. There also have been many private and gloomy expressions of misgivings over any concrete accomplishment which would provide a key to industrial controversies and open the way to peaceful reconversion.

The conference will convene with a background of nation-wide industrial uneasiness. Conflicting viewpoints on the best methods of settling differences will be aired at the outset of the conference. No one expects the sessions will produce only sweetmeats and light with so many vital issues at stake.

While conference delegates met to discuss matters of policy, Secretary of Labor Schwelb moved to head off a possible walkout by more than half a million steel and aluminum workers who are scheduled to take a strike vote Nov. 28.

Schwelb appointed Arthur S. Meyer, chairman of the New York State Mediation Board, as a special conciliator to seek an agreement between the U. S. Steel Corporation and the C. I. O. Steel Workers in their dispute over the union's demands for a $2.00 a day wage increase.

He asked the steel company and the C. I. O. to resume their collective bargaining which was terminated Oct. 23.

Some controversial issues are expected to be injected into the opening sessions.

C. I. O. President Philip Murray met today with labor delegates to discuss the agenda. He also worked on the speech he will deliver to the conference Monday. One source said he will demand "smoking" collective bargaining and say such bargaining will require a change of attitude by business.

Murray also is expected to press for discussion of wages, full employment and unemployment pay. If he should do that, it will run into opposition from the management delegates.

ASKED TO HELP MEN READJUST SELVES

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 3.—(AP)—Members of the New Orleans Archdiocese Council of Catholic women today were asked to help men readjust the isolation that young men feel ashore.

Speaking at the closed convention that opened today, the Rev. Thomas A. McDonough, chairman of the Catholic Maritime Club, said seamen ashore suffered from inadequate provisions for social and religious life.

"They often find sociability when they should not," he said, and added that a feeling of loneliness was not to do with them made them particularly susceptible to communist propaganda.

Archbishop Joseph Francis Rummel asked the Catholic women to help returned seamen readjust themselves to civilian life after their experiences in jungles, battlefields, prisons and in the degraded civilizations of some of the enemies.

Mrs. Dan Mooney of Baton Rouge, president of the Archdiocesan Council, presided.

Sectional meetings were held on assistant-leader groups, postwar activities, finances and socialities.

Closing sessions of the meeting will be held tomorrow.

EUROPEAN PICTURE BLEAK AFTER 6 MONTHS OF PEACE

People Still Struggling With Woes Of Economic Chaos

By Alex Singleton
LONDON, Nov. 3.—(AP)—Six months of peace have left uneasy people still struggling with the woes of economic chaos, social unrest and political upheavals which have slowed down return of stability, delayed reconstruction and retarded realization of the four freedoms.

From the capitals of a continent seared by the passions of six years' oppression and scarred by the passage of war, Associated Press correspondents pieced together an overall picture of the progress—and the lack of it—toward full bellies and happy minds.

What achievements have been realized in rebuilding bleak and bomb-cratered cities? What has been done to settle the provocative problems of boundary disputes? How fared the press newly up from the underground? What were the people doing and saying?

The answers added up to an account of widespread suffering with little hope of wholesale relief before winter's end. There were bright spots such as in Belgium where liberation brought speedy application of reconstruction plans.

But there also were bleak areas where the menace of starvation remained a day-to-day reality, where freedom from want and freedom of expression were the prerogatives of new-born governments grappling with the task of consolidating their authority. And there were blank spots such as those in the Balkans—screened off by restrictive censorship and barriers against "outside" newsmen.

Associated Press correspondents, many of whom joined their way across the continent with the advancing armies from D-Day to V-Day, reached these general conclusions in their survey:

1. Living conditions—Much improved over a year ago in western Europe, although the people will be cold through lack of fuel and many commodities will remain on ration; marginal at best in central Europe, dangerous in parts of Italy, the Balkans, Germany, Austria, Finland and Poland, substantially better in Russia.

2. Economic recovery—This has been handicapped by a lack of transportation, materials and manpower. But several of the western Allied powers, with an eye to next year, have concluded new trade agreements. In Russia, reconversion was started even before the war ended. In the former Axis countries little progress has been made with the future dependent upon the extent to which industrial reconstructions are expected and the amount and type of manufacturing permitted.

3. Reconstruction and rehabilitation—This is perhaps best measured by the fact that even in Britain, never invaded, little has been done beyond superficial repairs of rooftops and removal of brick walls protruding windows from bomb blast. Upon the continent, whole cities remain clogged with rubble and paralyzed by lack of utilities, with estimates of the time necessary for their restoration ranging up to more than two decades.

4. Social progress—Sweeping programs of so-called "land reforms" have been instituted where Russian influence is powerful—the Balkans, Poland and Czechoslovakia, and the Soviet zone of occupation in Germany. It is still too early to measure accurately the effect of land redistribution in improving the long-range lot of the peasant class. In western Europe, the lamps of education are burning again, dimly as yet for it has been a hard task to find teachers and books free from Nazi influence after five years of occupation.

5. Population resettlement—Millions of Europeans are still matching. Thousands upon thousands are attempting to get home from concentration camps and slave labor centers. Millions more are being forced to move on as Czechoslovakia purges herself of her prewar German minority and as Poland takes over a big chunk of Prussia.

6. Boundary disputes—Grave concern is being voiced throughout Europe over postponement of the job of re-making the map of the continent. Correspondents in a half dozen capitals listed quick settlement of the problem as essential to help eliminate national suspicions and political intrigue and to get the continent on a good-neighbor basis.

7. Freedom of information—Here, at least, lip service has been paid by the vast majority of European statesmen to the principle of international freedom of the press. But, outside of western Europe, that concept has still failed to realize its ideal. And in some western countries there remain hidden checks against a free press. Some countries use government allocation of short supplies of newsprint as a potentially powerful weapon with which to penalize the opposition press. This was the general picture of six months after peace.

LENARD WITNESS IN ELLIS TRIAL

City Jailer Will Go To Colfax Monday To Give Testimony

W. A. Lenard, jailer for the city of Monroe, who arrested Pvt. Patrick C. Ellis 19, St. Joseph, Mo., here on June 23, 1944, for investigation in connection with the murder of a Grant parish woman, will leave here early tomorrow morning for Colfax where he will appear as a state's witness in the trial of the soldier who for the second time is being tried for the murder of Mrs. Mary Etta Moffett, 56.

Ellis, said to have been absent without leave from Camp Livingston at the time Mrs. Moffett was stabbed to death at her home near Pollock, was convicted at Colfax last fall and sentenced to die in the electric chair, but won an appeal to the state supreme court for a new trial.

At the time of Ellis' arrest here by Jailer Lenard in the 300 block of DeSiard street, the accused was dressed in civilian clothes which the state claims belonged to John T. Moffett, son of the slain woman. Ellis was also said to have had in his possession a billfold and identification papers belonging to John T. Moffett, and he allegedly first told officers here his name was Moffett. Mrs. Moffett was slain on June 22, 1944. Her son, the day before, met Ellis on the highway and when he learned the soldier was "broke," Moffett is said to have invited Ellis to his home where he spent the night. When Moffett and a sister left the following morning for work at Camp Livingston, they left the soldier asleep with only their mother at home. They found their mother slain when they returned and the soldier missing.

ANOTHER REASON WHY AMERICA'S FOOD SUPPLY MUST BE SAVED

MILLIONS OF BOYS STILL OVERSEAS

THOUSANDS OF EXTRA FARM HELPERS NEEDED!

says U. S. Dept. of Agriculture

This is an emergency. Our country faces a critical farm-labor shortage. Crops in this area must be saved. You can do nothing more patriotic than help the farmers in your area harvest the cotton, feed and food crops.

If our nation's food crops are to be saved, thousands of non-farm volunteers must be found. So, get a farm job. America needs every scrap of food the country's growing. Yet our crops are in real peril. Help save them! You'll enjoy the healthful outdoor life; and you'll be paid prevailing rates as you serve your country.

LOUISIANA WATER SUPPLY SURVEYED

One State And One Federal Department Cooperating In Work

BATON ROUGE, La., Nov. 3.—(AP)—The state and one federal department are cooperating in an extensive effort to keep Louisiana from going dry—but the liquid in this case is underground water.

Louisiana's public works department and a local division of the U. S. geological survey are conducting surveys which they believe will result in data of considerable value to industry and agriculture. The state wildlife department, interested in pollution, is aiding the study.

Specifically, they believe they are already in pretty good position to tell planners of a new factory whether a tentatively selected site is over enough water to supply plant needs, and to warn rice growers, for instance, whether they are drawing too heavily on their indispensable supplies.

Some idea of the extent and value of their surveys is indicated by estimates by R. H. Jones, U. S. geologist here, that Louisiana's daily consumption of underground water is more than 500 million gallons, and that maximum daily consumption probably exceeds a billion gallons.

Irrigation, for instance, withdraws an estimated 120 billion gallons a year to help rice in southwestern Louisiana and strawberries in southeastern Louisiana, and the supply must be watched carefully lest over-pumping cause salt water encroachment.

Industries use as much as 200 million gallons of underground water per day, in boilers, for cooling purposes and as wash-water. Baton Rouge plants alone use 70 million. Lake Charles refineries and chemical plants require 35 million. New Orleans breweries, ice plants and others require 50 million, and several million gallons daily are required by paper mills at Springhill, Hodge, Monroe, Bastrop, Elizabeth and Bogalusa.

These people, as well as those planning new industries, want to know how big the supply is, whether it's corrosive, its temperature and other facts.

Answering such questions was the project the two departments took on, and they found it required a great deal of detailed work. For instance, periodic water-level measurements are made in some 400 wells in the state, monthly measurements are made in more than 100 wells in the rice-farming area, and continuous recorders are operated in 21 wells.

In addition, the project including tracing the porous sands carrying the water back to the surface strata where it is picked up, and the making of estimates of the effect there of light or heavy rainfall.

To aid future drilling, records were sought of the drilling of as many wells as possible, as to just what sands were encountered and what they yielded. Commercial well drillers, the departments reported, generally were co-operative in reporting such information, realizing that its compilation and coordination would aid their future operations.

Chief Engineer Leo Odom of the public works department already has prepared maps and charts covering much of the state, indicating courses of the "underground rivers" and at what depth they can be reached in various sections.

The project has a health angle, too, in that nearly 200 municipal areas obtain their water supplies from underground sources, using about 50 million gallons a day. Of these supplies, 157 require no treatment, unless it be simple chlorination.

The current joint study concludes that "ground water constitutes one of Louisiana's most vital natural resources . . . proper exploitation will provide a great and lasting value."

LABOR, BUSINESS FIREWORKS SEEN

Storm Sessions Are Expected At Washington Conferences

WASHINGTON, Nov. 3.—(AP)—All the signs in this jam-packed city today pointed toward some stormy sessions when leaders of labor and business sit down together next week for discussions which will chart the course of the nation's future labor-management relations.

Representatives of both labor and business have professed publicly their optimism over the results expected from the labor-management conference opening Monday. There also have been many private and gloomy expressions of misgivings over any concrete accomplishment which would provide a key to industrial controversies and open the way to peaceful reconstruction.

The conference will convene with a background of nation-wide industrial uneasiness.

Conflicting viewpoints on the best methods of settling differences will be aired at the outset of the conference. No one expects the sessions will produce only sweetness and light with so many vital issues at stake.

While conference delegates met to discuss matters of policy, Secretary of Labor Schwelbach moved to head off a possible walkout by more than half a million steel and aluminum workers who are scheduled to take a strike vote Nov. 28.

Schwelbach appointed Arthur S. Meyer, chairman of the New York State Mediation Board, as a special conciliator to seek an agreement between the U. S. Steel Corporation and the C. I. O. Steel Workers in their dispute over the union's demands for a $2.06 a day wage increase.

He asked the steel company and the C. I. O. to resume their collective bargaining which was terminated Oct. 23.

Some controversial issues are expected to be injected into the opening sessions.

C. I. O. President Philip Murray met today with labor delegates to discuss the agenda. He also worked on the speech he will deliver to the conference Monday. One source said he will demand "sincere" collective bargaining and say such bargaining will require a change of attitude by business.

Murray also is expected to press for discussion of wages, full employment, and unemployment pay. If he should do that, it will run into opposition from the management delegates.

ASKED TO HELP MEN READJUST SELVES

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 3.—(AP)—Members of the New Orleans Archdiocesan Council of Catholic women today were asked to help mitigate the isolation that young seamen feel ashore.

Speaking at the council convention that opened today, the Rev. Thomas A. McDonough, chaplain of the Catholic Maritime Club, said seamen ashore suffered from inadequate provisions for social and religious life.

"They often find social isolation where they should not," he said and added that a feeling of loneliness wanted nothing to do with them made them particularly susceptible to communist propaganda.

Archbishop Joseph Francis Rummel asked the Catholic women to help returned service men readjust their experiences in jungles, battlefields, prisons and "in the degraded civilizations of some of the enemies."

Mrs. Dan Meny of Baton Rouge, president of the Archdiocesan Council, presided.

Sectional meetings were held on parent-teacher groups, postwar activities, shrines and sodalities.

Closing sessions of the meeting will be held tomorrow.

EUROPEAN PICTURE BLEAK AFTER 6 MONTHS OF PEACE

People Still Struggling With Woes Of Economic Chaos

By Alex Singleton

LONDON, Nov. 3.—(AP)—Six months of peace have left uneasy people still struggling with the woes of economic chaos, social unrest and political upheavals which have slowed down return of stability, delayed reconstruction and retarded realization of the four freedoms.

From the capitals of a continent seared by the passions of six years' oppression and scarred by the passage of war, Associated Press correspondents pieced together an overall picture of the progress—and the lack of it—toward full bellies and happy minds.

What achievements have been realized in rebuilding bleak and bomb-cratered cities? What has been done to settle the provocative problems of boundary disputes? How fared the press newly up from the underground? What were the people doing and saying?

The answers added up to an account of widespread suffering with little hope of wholesale relief before winter's end. There were bright spots such as in Belgium where liberation brought speedy application of reconstruction plans.

But there also were bleak areas where the menace of starvation remained a day-to-day reality, where freedom from want and freedom of expression were the prerogatives of new-born governments grappling with the task of consolidating their authority. And there were blank spots such as those in the Balkans—screened off by restrictive censorship and barriers against "outside" newsmen.

Associated Press correspondents, many of whom jeoped their way across the continent with the advancing armies from D-Day to V-Day, reached these general conclusions in their survey:

1. Living conditions—Much improved over a year ago in western Europe, although the people will be cold through lack of fuel and many commodities will remain on ration; marginal at best in central Europe, dangerous in parts of Italy, the Balkans, Germany, Austria, Finland and Poland; substantially better in Russia.

2. Economic recovery—This has been handicapped by a lack of transportation, materials and manpower. But several of the western Allied powers, with an eye to next year, have concluded new trade agreements. In Russia, reconstruction was started even before the war ended. In the former Axis countries little progress has been made with the future dependent upon the extent to which industrial reparations are exacted and the amount and type of manufacturing permitted—a still unsettled policy.

3. Reconstruction and rehabilitation—This is perhaps best measured by the fact that even in Britain, never invaded, little has been done beyond superficial repairs of rooftops and removal of brick walls protecting windows from bomb blast. Upon the continent, whole cities remain clogged with rubble and paralyzed by lack of utilities, with estimates of the time necessary for their restoration ranging up to more than two decades.

4. Social progress—Sweeping programs of so-called "land reforms" have been instituted where Russian influence is powerful—the Balkans, Poland and Czechoslovakia, and the Soviet zone of occupation in Germany. It is still too early to measure accurately the effect of land redistribution in improving the long-range lot of the peasant class. In western Europe, the lamps of education are burning again, dimly as yet for it has been a hard task to find teachers and books free from Nazi influence after five years of occupation.

5. Population resettlement—Millions of Europeans are still marching. Thousands upon thousands are attempting to get home from concentration camps and slave labor centers. Millions more are being forced to move on as Czechoslovakia purges herself of her prewar German minority and as Poland takes over a big chunk of Prussia.

6. Boundary disputes—Grave concern is being voiced throughout Europe over postponement of the job of remaking the map of the continent. Correspondents in a half dozen capitals listed quick settlement of the problem as essential to help eliminate national suspicions and political intrigue and to get the continent on a good-neighbor basis.

7. Freedom of information—Here, at least, lip service has been paid by the vast majority of European statesmen to the principle of international freedom of the press. But, outside of western Europe, that concept has still failed to realize its ideal. And in some western countries there remain hidden checks against a free press. Some countries use government allocation of short supplies of newsprint as a potentially powerful weapon with which to penalize the opposition press. This was the general picture of six months after peace.

LENARD WITNESS IN ELLIS TRIAL

City Jailer Will Go To Colfax Monday To Give Testimony

W. A. Lenard, jailer for the city of Monroe, who arrested Pvt. Patrick C. Ellis 19, St. Joseph, Mo., here on June 23, 1944, for investigation in connection with the murder of a Grant parish woman, will leave here early tomorrow morning for Colfax where he will appear as a state's witness in the trial of the soldier who for the second time is being tried for the murder of Mrs. Mary Etta Moffett, 56.

Ellis, said to have been absent without leave from Camp Livingston at the time Mrs. Moffett was stabbed to death at her home near Pollock, was convicted at Colfax last fall and sentenced to die in the electric chair, but won an appeal to the state supreme court for a new trial.

At the time of Ellis' arrest here by Jailer Lenard in the 500 block of DeSiard street, the accused was dressed in civilian clothes which the state claims belonged to John T. Moffett, son of the slain woman. Ellis was also said to have had in his

THOUSANDS OF EXTRA FARM HELPERS NEEDED!

says U. S. Dept. of Agriculture

This is an emergency. Our country faces a critical farm-labor shortage. Crops in this area must be saved. You can do nothing more patriotic than help the farmers in your area harvest the cotton, feed and food crops.

If our nation's food crops are to be saved, thousands of non-farm volunteers must be found. So, get a farm job. America needs every scrap of food the country's growing. Yet our crops are in real peril. Help save them! You'll enjoy the healthful outdoor life; and you'll be paid prevailing rates as you serve your country.

STATES NAME OF C. I. O. 'SEIZED'

Free Enterprisers Claim Legal Coup By Obtaining Charter

SAINT ANTONIO, Tex., Nov. 3.—(AP)—The Free Enterprisers, who today free the C. I. O. name in Texas, said they had "seized" the name of the C. I. O. by obtaining the charter of the "infinite angles."

He said the new organization would use legal steps to "protect the illegal use of its name," or its initials.

"Only this new organized corporation has, in Texas, the right to this name and its use."

The secretary of state in Austin yesterday granted a charter to the Congress of Industrial Organizations. The charter was granted to a group of men active in the organization known as the Fight for Free Enterprise, and not the labor organization of that name.

O. A. Knight, president of the Oil Workers International Union, said in a Fort Worth he did not believe the new organization would achieve its purpose, "which undoubtedly is to embarrass the national C. I. O."

"I hardly need to elaborate on the infinite angles which present themselves for action by us in this situation," Hopkins said in a memorandum to the press.

"Not the least intriguing will be the press releases, newspaper ads, and radio broadcasts by this legitimate, legal C. I. O. and which you can safely infer, will be quite the opposite in purposes and policy from the self-styled C. I. O. which reportedly headquarters in Washington (or under Sidney Hillman's hat) and which has intruded itself into Texas."

Commenting on the unexpected development in the fight between the labor union in Texas and the F.F.E., Knight said the Fight for Free Enterprise has been actively fighting the national C. I. O. in Texas but said, "Certainly the national C. I. O. is not required to register to do business in Texas."

"I feel that the incorporators of the new organization will achieve their purpose, which undoubtedly is to embarrass the national C. I. O.," Hopkins, however, said:

"The people of Texas will realize

SUSPECT HELD IN WOMAN'S DEATH

Man Formerly Accused Of Defrauding Victim Questioned

PONTIAC, Mich., Nov. 3.—(AP)—A 29-year-old Detroit, once accused of having defrauded Mrs. Albert Rose Young of several thousand dollars during the absence of her army officer husband, was charged today with slaying the attractive brunette.

Larry J. Theis, who at one time worked with Mrs. Young in a Detroit factory, was charged in a warrant with first degree murder.

Mrs. Young's body, a bullet hole in the head, was found caught on a rock in the Clinton river near here last Wednesday.

Police obtained a warrant against Theis after an investigation showed Mrs. Young's bank account had gone down from $3,181.69 to only $1.68 within a few months.

Capt. Donald S. Leonard of the state police, said he estimated that Theis owed Mrs. Young $4,000 at the time of her death. He stated she apparently was disturbed over the prospect of accounting for her depleted bank account to her husband, Capt. Franklin Young, who was due to return from overseas.

A nation-wide search for Theis was instituted immediately following issuance of the warrant.

Mrs. Young filed charges last June 7 against Theis. Detective Lt. James H. Porter said, accusing him of obtaining money from her under false pretenses. He quoted her as saying she loaned money to Theis to purchase an automobile.

Shortly after Theis was arrested, Porter said, Mrs. Young "came to the station and said she wanted to make a settlement—she had to have money when her husband came home."

He said Theis and the woman conferred in another room and when Theis agreed to make restitution, he was released and charges were dropped.

A state police detective, Olin Williamson, said Mrs. Young had given Theis money for a first payment on an automobile and later $300 more to prevent repossession. She then took title to the car, he said, and sold it. Porter also asserted that Mrs. Young had purchased another car for Theis.

CHECKER TOURNEY SCHEDULED TODAY

Competing in what is said to be one of the two greatest and oldest mental games ever devised, checker players of north Louisiana will match their skill, beginning this afternoon at 1 o'clock, in a tournament to be held in the West Monroe community center. This will be the regular fall tournament, conducted under the sponsorship of the Louisiana State Checker Association.

Checkers and chess are said to be the oldest and greatest mental games known to man. It is said that "everybody plays checkers" but chess formerly was a game played by royalty, although now more generally played by the masses.

M. E. Kidd, veteran player and present holder of the north Louisiana title will attend the tournament, accompanied by a group of fellow players from Cloutier, Dubach, Oak Grove, Anley and several other towns also are expected to be represented.

Anyone living in north Louisiana may enter the tournament by appearing at the community center, located at Coleman and Fifth streets in West Monroe, at 1 p. m. today.

ARREST MADE IN ATTACK ON WOMAN

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 3.—(AP)—New Orleans taxi driver is being brought here from Marksville, La., for questioning in connection with the mystery surrounding a 22-year-old woman found unconscious in a nearby Jefferson Parish lumber yard, Parish Deputy Sheriff John Stewart said tonight.

Stewart declined to name the man until he had had an opportunity to question him. He said that he was not sure yet of the name of the woman, who is being treated in a New Orleans hospital for skull fracture and lacerations.

Stewart said the woman lived in New Orleans and that she had been seen to leave a New Orleans night club in a cab Thursday night. She was found Friday morning lying between two stacks of lumber in the yard.

ESCAPE OF ITALIAN PRISONER REPORTED

The escape of an Italian prisoner of war from a work detail near Lake Providence was announced last night by C. E. Weeks, special agent in charge of the Federal Bureau of Investigation at New Orleans.

The prisoner, Zaira Donato, a prisoner of the Lake Providence camp was said to have escaped yesterday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock while with a work detail six miles southwest of Lake Providence.

He was described as being 24 years old, standing five feet and four inches tall, weighing 134 pounds, having brown eyes, black hair, dark complexion, high cheek bones, narrow face, and bent of medium build. He is said to speak Italian only. He was wearing regulation POW clothing marked "PW" at the time of his escape.

Persons with any information concerning the escaped prisoner are advised to contact FBI headquarters at New Orleans or the nearest sheriff or police officer.

LEBLANC ANNOUNCES THREE PROMOTIONS

BATON ROUGE, La., Nov. 3.—(AP)—Attorney General Fred S. LeBlanc today announced three promotions in the state department of justice, including that of W. C. Perreault of Opelousas to be his first assistant.

Perreault, second assistant, was appointed to succeed the late W. D. Goff of Arcadia.

Robert F. Reed of Amite and Hammond was promoted from special assistant to second assistant to replace Perreault and R. H. Lee of Bossier parish was named executive assistant, position not previously filled by LeBlanc.

Perreault and Lee had both served under Eugene Stanley, former attorney general, Reed, appointed at LeBlanc's request by Stanley shortly before he left office, will continue to handle mineral board cases, his previous specialty.

Mighty Post-War Problems To Be Discussed By Louisiana Federated Club Women

Convention To Be Held Next Week

Mrs. A. D. Tisdale Will Head Groups Of Club Women Leaving For State Convention

The mighty postwar problems already are beginning to emerge and women's organizations face a world restored to peace but propitious with questions whose solution the average woman feels can't be left to chance.

How best to effect the transition from war work to post-war service for those returning from battle temporarily or permanently disabled, how to improve and extend education; how to provide food for the hungry and shelter for the homeless—all these and a thousand related problems are in the minds of women and especially members of the Federated Women's club when they gather November 8, in Lafayette for the state convention.

Mrs. A. D. Tisdale, president of the Louisiana Federation of Women's clubs will preside at this meeting, one of the most important in the history of the Louisiana organization. The theme of the convention is "Youth Conservation."

The program, a most comprehensive one, follows:

Thursday, November 8, 1946:
8 p. m.—Board of directors' meeting, Oak room, Evangeline hotel.
Registration of delegates, hotel lobby, Thursday, Friday and Saturday.
Friday, November 9:
Opening Session—Oak room, Evangeline hotel.

The mayor of Maastricht, province of Netherlands, wrote to Mrs. S. K. Heninger, chairman of the local Red Cross sewing unit, expressing his heartfelt thanks for the gift of clothes sent from the Monroe Red Cross chapter to the Dutch citizens. He said:

"In the name of the people of Limburg and especially of my city I want to express my heartfelt thanks to you, for all you have done to us as a mediator between the American Red Cross and our Dutch citizens."

"This gift of the American people helped out in the worst need and was a real relief in the great clothing problem."

"It is the more appreciated as, according to your magazine 'Stars and Stripes' of April 21st, there even seems to be a shortage in the U. S. due to the war."

"We can never express enough our gratitude for the generosity of you and the people of your country. Will you please transmit our deepest gratitude to the generous givers in America."

"I herewith enclose a translated copy of my covering circular letter, addressed to the several burgomasters of the towns and villages in this province, to whom I was able to send parts of the clothes."

It is interesting to note that seven great grandchildren of the late Mrs. Francis Palmer Stubbs are now attending the school named in her memory. The Georgia Tucker was built on the ground presented to the city of Monroe by the descendants of Colonel Francis Palmer Stubbs whose wife was the former Miss Georgia Tucker. The great great grandchildren are: Sue and King Stubbs, children of Mr. and Mrs. King Stubbs; Palmer Stubbs and Markely Huey, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Stanton Huey; Earl Chumney Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Chumney. Mrs. Chumney is the former Miss India Stubbs; Pauline and Frances Barringer Jr.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Woods and Mrs. James A. Nee motored to Bell Buckle, Tenn., to visit their sons, who are attending the Webb school for boys.

Mrs. Juliette Marx and son Captain Manne Marx of New York City are guests in the home of Mrs. Marx' sister, Mrs. Sigmund Moser and Mr. Moser at their home Grey Gables.

Such interesting news of Seaman Sam Rubin Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Rubin of this city comes to us from overseas where he is stationed with the U. S. Coast Guard. He is making an enviable record for himself with the Coast Guard football team in Honolulu and expects to continue football next year when he enters Tulane University. He has a four year scholarship at this university. He is a graduate of the Neville high school and attended Kemper military school where he won the boxing championship for Kemper. Seaman Rubin will be released from duty with the Coast Guard next July.

MOTHER'S FRIEND, an exquisitely prepared emollient, is useful in all conditions where a bland, mild anodyne massage medium to skin lubrication is desired. One condition in which women for more than 70 years have used it is an application for massaging the body during pregnancy... it helps keep the skin soft and pliable... thus avoiding unnecessary discomfort due to dryness and tightness. It refreshes and tones the skin. An ideal massage application for the numb, stinging or burning sensations of the skin... for the tired back muscles or cramp-like pains in the legs. Quickly absorbed. Delightful to use. Highly praised by users, many doctors and nurses. Millions of bottles sold. Just ask any druggist for Mother's Friend—the skin emollient and lubricant. Do try it.

and white orchids was unusually beautiful. Her only ornament was a strand of pearls.

The reception, following the ceremony, took place at the Hale home on Glenmar. It was widely attended as the invitation to the ceremony included an invitation to the reception.

The entire lower floor was banked with beautiful white chrysanthemums with a special arrangement forming the background for the wedding party. Mrs. Hale, the bride's mother, received in a floor length model of black crepe and a corsage of pink carnations. Mrs. Haines, the bridegroom's mother, wore a black crepe dinner model trimmed in silver leaves.

The wedding cake cut by the bride and groom before departing on their honeymoon, centered the dining table overlaid with handsome lace. Oblong plaques of white tube roses were placed at the four corners and at either end of the table white tapered candles in silver candelabra. Individual wedding cakes and iced frappe was served by Miss Ann Carter, Miss Dorothy Graves, Mrs. Donald Bachman, Mrs. Nadia Lee Tucker, Mrs. James Phelps, Mrs. Pete McVay, Miss Jean McVay, Mrs. Fred Culpepper Jr., and Mrs. Al Godwin.

The bride tossed her wedding bouquet from the stairway. It was caught by her sister, Miss Jean Hale. The bride traveled in a smart tail of rosebuds with a winter veil felt hat trimmed in gold and a corsage of white orchids.

Mrs. Haines, a popular member of Monroe's younger set, is a graduate of the Neville high school and Whitworth college. She is a member of Delta Beta Sigma sorority and the Junior Charity League.

Captain Haines is a graduate of the Ann Arbor high school and the university of Michigan. He is stationed at Selman Field.

Miss Wright Will Wed Harold Lee Later In Month

Prominent among the announcements made today is the engagement of Miss Joyce Wright to Mr. Harold Lee, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lee of Selman Field. The bride-elect is a graduate of Belcher High School and attended Louisiana Polytechnic Institute. For the past three years she has been employed by the government at Selman Field. She is an outstanding member of Delta Rho Delta. Miss Wright is a descendant of a distinguished pioneer family. Her maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Sinclair of Belcher whose plantation home has been the scene of many gay festivities in the past decade.

Mr. Lee, son of Mr. Luther Lee, is a graduate of Vivian High School and attended Louisiana State University until he was called in service. He served in the Field Artillery and participated in the New Caledonia, Bougainville, Guadalcanal and Fiji Islands major campaigns. He attended Officer's Candidate school and received his commission in Brisbane, Australia.

The young couple will make their home in Shreveport where Mr. Lee is associated with the Stanline Oil company.

Lt. and Mrs. S. G. Mitchell Jr. announce the arrival of a daughter, Judith Anne, November 1st. Miss Mitchell will be remembered as Miss Virginia Poole. The maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Poole of Sterling and the paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. S. G. Mitchell Sr. of El Dorado, Ark.

Benefit Card Party Is Success

Fashionable Throng Attends Grace Church Junior Guild's Annual Benefit Card Party

A handsome antique silver filigree basket that has been in continued use for the past 75 years by an English family, was donated by Mr. William Grasse to members of Grace Church Junior Guild for their grand prize when they entertained with their annual benefit card party. This gift, greatly desired by every woman present, was claimed by Mrs. C. H. Martin who held the lucky number. The presentation of handsome prizes at these annual benefit card parties is now a tradition and dates back through the years to the guild's first card party.

Women preoccupied for four years with war service are now enjoying a world restored to peace and eager to cooperate with all organizations in their philanthropic work. The response to the invitation issued by Grace Church Junior Guild members to attend their benefit card party was really splendid. The affair was not only a great success financially but socially as well. During the tea hour guests called to enjoy the social interlude during which delicious refreshments were served from a beautifully appointed table presided over by Mrs. Fred Fudickar who wore an afternoon model of black crepe with pale pink yoke embroidered in crystal beads. Mrs. George Gunby presiding over the silver coffee urns wore an afternoon model of crepe embroidered in gold sequins.

The high moment came when the gifts were distributed. In addition to the grand prize, beautiful gifts donated by the R and A Jewelry and Durrett's, were won by Mrs. Everett Burgoyne and Mrs. James Diew. Other gifts ranging from embroidered linens and luscious homemade cakes were claimed by Mrs. Thomas Davenport, Mrs. Arthur Emerson, Mrs. Henry Guerrero, Mrs. J. P. Brown, Mrs. Ivy McDonald, Mrs. Jack Tye, Mr. Mrs. R. L. Proppitt, Mrs. V. Kyle, Mrs. I. P. Robinson, Mrs. Floyd Martin, Mrs. A. B. Myatt, Mrs. Wesley Shafte, Mrs. F. N. Steele, Mrs. L. Lohan, Mrs. George Gunby.

Noted among the tea guests and the card players were Mrs. H. M. James, Mrs. Matthew Troy, Mrs. F. C. Bennett, Mrs. Clarence Griffith, Mrs. W. K. Andros, Mrs. Darwin Nichols, Mrs. James Diew, Mrs. Louise Snider, Mrs. Anne Smith, Mrs. B. Jackson, Mrs. T. C. Drew, Mrs. Henry Whitfield, Miss Carrie Dee Drew, Mrs. George Varino, Mrs. Vernon L. Cour, Mrs. A. S. Tidwell, Jr., Mrs. Wilson Ewing, Mrs. Ivy McDonald, Mrs. Mrs. James Dorman, Mrs. Louis Peters, Mrs. Stanley Blower, Mrs. Charles Womack, Mrs. Volney Kyle, Mrs. John Ely, Mrs. T. P. Wilson, Mrs. Asher Whitley, Mrs. Walter Ryland Jr., Mrs. May Percy, Mrs. Duncan Cook, Mrs. J. Leon Dennis, Mrs. H. D. Holman, Mrs. Guy Durbin, Mrs. I. N. Cook, Mrs. R. H. Pizzell, Mrs. Louis Mahan, Mrs. John J. Potts, Mrs. William Harper, Mrs. Nathan Gaston, Mrs. J. M. Menefee, Mrs. C. W. Wallace, Mrs. J. E. Jamon.

Mrs. James H. Rounsaville, the former Miss Mildred E. Beard, is convalescing at Nantavis Hospital in Jacksonville, Texas, after an emergency appendectomy.

Monroe is charmingly represented on the Purple Jackets, prominent Louisiana State University coed organization by Marilyn Rosenberg, representing Sigma Delta Tau, and Jean McCormick, representing Chi Omega.

Originating in the fall of 1933, this group is composed of 48 women, three from each sorority and two from each of the upper classes of the University. New jackets have been obtained for the group and they will be purple trimmed in gold with gold lettering, "Purple Jackets" on the back of each, with parts of the uniform including conventional white gloves, white socks and saddle oxfords. White overseas caps will be worn to complete the uniform.

Cheering, while a great part of the group's activities, is not all since they have sponsored a number of drives, including last year's March of Dimes and numerous other campus projects. The constitution of the Purple Jackets is "to sponsor cooperation and school spirit between athletics and the student body, to count as a force through service rendered to University officials, faculty, and fellow students."

Large Concourse Of Friends And Relatives Attend Hale-Haines Nuptial Even

Methodist Church Scene Of Wedding

Reception At Hale Home Follows The Ceremony At The First Methodist Church

The First Methodist Church was thronging with friends and relatives for the wedding of Miss Ellen Christine Hale, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy O. Hale, and Lt. Raymond Kenneth Haines, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. Hill of Ann Arbor, Mich., Saturday night, October 27, at 7:30 o'clock with the pastor, Dr. A. M. Serex officiating at the impressive ceremony.

White chrysanthemums of pronounced beauty banked the chancel and overflowing from tall white wrought iron standards, formed an enclosure for the wedding party. A shower of English ivy and southern

Interest Centered In Nuptial Event

Marriage Of Miss Halverson And Lieutenant William Stewart Jr., Of Interest To Friends

One of the loveliest weddings of the season at North Chapel, Selman Field took place October 8, when Miss Dorothy Halverson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Halverson, of Sioux City, Ia., and Lt. William P. Stewart Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Stewart, of this city, were united in marriage with the chaplain of North Chapel officiating in the presence of friends and relatives.

The chapel was candlelit and adorned with beautiful white chrysanthemums banked against the chancel and flanking the altar. A pre-nuptial concert was rendered while the guests were being seated.

The bride's attendant, Miss K. J. Grizmacher, wore a black crepe model with cascade of white gardenias. Mr. R. G. Brice served as best man.

The bride, given in marriage by Lt. Donald Stevenson, wore a beautiful white light wool model trimmed in gold. She wore a winter white hat and a cascade of orchids.

Immediately following the ceremony an informal reception was held in the Cameo room of the Virginia hotel with Mrs. Grizmacher extending courtesies.

The bride's table, beautifully appointed, was adorned with a three-tiered wedding cake. It was cut by the young couple before they left for a honeymoon in New Orleans.

The bride is a graduate of East High School. She attended Augustoria College, Sioux Falls, South Dakota where she was affiliated with Phi Rho Beta Sorority. Prior to her marriage she was employed by Civil Service as weather observer for U. S. Weather Bureau.

Lt. Stewart is a graduate of Our Lady Parish High. Employed as manager of R. C. Brice Store before he entered service January 26, 1942. He received commission at Carlisle, New Mexico, Army Field, where he served as instructor. Lieutenant Stewart is now stationed at Keesler Field, Miss.

Concert Season To Be Launched

Famous Violinist Will Be Presented In Concert At Junior College Auditorium

The Civic Music Association season will be brilliantly launched November 19 when Samuel Dushkin, violinist, will be presented in concert at Northeast Junior College Auditorium at eight o'clock in the evening.

The famous young violinist was born in Suwalki, Russia, where he first performed in public as a child prodigy at the age of six. In fact, he was not quite six years old when he made his first concert tour of Russian Poland—a tour that was abruptly terminated when the Dushkin family moved to the United States to take up permanent residence.

During the years that followed, the young violinist has been a universal sensation both as a master soloist and as a member of the class and an interpreter of Beethoven, Brahms, and other great composers. His repertoire of contemporary music is one of the finest in the world. He has been a member of the New York Philharmonic, the Chicago Symphony, and the Boston Symphony. He has also been a member of the Vienna Philharmonic, the Berlin Philharmonic, and the London Symphony. He has been a member of the New York Philharmonic, the Chicago Symphony, and the Boston Symphony. He has also been a member of the Vienna Philharmonic, the Berlin Philharmonic, and the London Symphony.

This is a splendid opportunity for the Dushkin family to extend to the American public the fruits of their artistry. The concert will be a most interesting and profitable one.

Dr. Cline Speaker At D. A. R. Meeting

Members Of Fort Miro Chapter Of The D. A. R. Hear Splendid Talk On 'Timely Events'

Seldom has a speaker, addressing members of Fort Miro Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, been more enthusiastically received than Dr. Rodney Cline who addressed this group of patriotic women at their regular meeting at the chapter house.

His subject, "Timely Events," was most inspirational. He said in part:

President Isaiah Mowman of Johns Hopkins said in Memphis, Tenn., during the early days of this war, "Tragic as is this war we dare not stop it if we could. The unsettled problems of people will flare out so bitterly when peace is declared that unless we can reach a sensible solution for them quickly, there will be nothing but strife until man destroys himself." The wisdom of his words is now readily seen. At the present time there can hardly be found two groups of people who trust each other. Nation fears nation; race hates race; capital and labor seem to have become cat and dog; international congresses break down in a storm of accusations and threats. I suppose that today there are more people hating each other than at any time in history.

In discussing "timely events" before such a group as this it is assumed that all of us are to some extent intelligent readers of current affairs, possessed of some historical knowledge as a background.

It is not hard at this time to call attention to those events which make newspaper headlines or which constitute the burden of talks by radio commentators. But somehow it seems to me that intelligent Americans must do more than view the parade of events. An organization such as yours is a useless exercise on the body of American society unless it influences and helps to determine the events in the procession.

There are those who assert that the present day represents a battle ground between the forces of Communism and the forces of Democracy. I look at it differently. The battle ground is the ancient one in which the forces of good, hatred, and distrust, I say, are seeking to destroy the long-suffering people of this world. The battle ground is the ancient one in which the forces of good, hatred, and distrust, I say, are seeking to destroy the long-suffering people of this world.

Our terrible way of life, which is threatening to wreck our nation and international community is a state between capital and labor. Reality is not that simple. Actually, it involves the community as a whole, as much as either capital or labor. The whole truth is, though, that the threat comes because men are guided by distrust and greed.

The American people are in a process of collaboration in a common struggle. It is a struggle for the survival of the American people. It is a struggle for the survival of the American people. It is a struggle for the survival of the American people.

Interest Centered In Nuptial Event

Marriage Of Miss Halverson And Lieutenant William Stewart Jr., Of Interest To Friends

One of the loveliest weddings of the season at North Chapel, Selman Field took place October 8, when Miss Dorothy Halverson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Halverson, of Sioux City, Ia., and Lt. William P. Stewart Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Stewart, of this city, were united in marriage with the chaplain of North Chapel officiating in the presence of friends and relatives.

The chapel was candlelit and adorned with beautiful white chrysanthemums banked against the chancel and flanking the altar. A pre-nuptial organ concert was rendered while the guests were being seated.

The bride's attendant, Mrs. K. J. Gritzmacher, wore a black crepe model with corsage of white gardenias. Mr. R. G. Brice served as best man.

The bride, given in marriage by Lt. Donald Stevenson, wore a beautiful white light wool model trimmed in gold. She wore a winter white hat and a corsage of orchids.

Immediately following the ceremony an informal reception was held in the Cameo room of the Virginia hotel with Mrs. Gritzmacher extending courtesies.

The bride's table, beautifully appointed, was adorned with a three-tiered wedding cake. It was cut by the young couple before they left for a honeymoon in New Orleans.

The bride is a graduate of East High School. She attended Augustoria College, Sioux Falls, South Dakota where she was affiliated with Psi Eho Beta Sorority. Prior to her marriage she was employed by Civil Service as weather observer for U. S. Weather Bureau.

Lt. Stewart is a graduate of Ouachita Parish High. Employed as manager of R. C. Brice Store before he entered service January 26, 1942. He received commission at Carlisle, New Mexico, Army Field, where he served as instructor. Lieutenant Stewart is now stationed at Keesler Field, Miss.

In fact, he was not quite six years old when he made his first concert tour of Russian Poland—a tour that was abruptly terminated when the Dushkin family moved to the United States to take up permanent residence.

During the years that followed, the young violinist pursued his musical studies assiduously... both in New York and later in Paris, under Kreisler, Remy and Auer. Dushkin's American debut took place in 1924 when he appeared with the New York Symphony Orchestra under the baton of Walter Damrosch. His success was immediate and repeated tours followed in which he visited England, Germany, France, Holland, Italy, Poland, Switzerland, Spain, Norway, Sweden, Denmark, Latvia, Lithuania, Egypt and Palestine.

This distinguished violinist, in his extensive career in Europe and this country, has been acclaimed with universal enthusiasm both as a master of the classic and an interpreter of the foremost works of contemporary music. As soloist with the leading orchestras in repeated tours, he has demonstrated his mastery in all the great violin concertos of the classic and romantic period—Bach, Mozart, Beethoven, Brahms, Mendelssohn, Liszt, Tchaikovsky—and in his recitals during many years he has interpreted the entire well known repertory for the solo violin.

Dushkin is equally famous as a specialist in the works of certain modern composers with whom he has

The battle ground is the ancient one in which the forces of greed, hatred and distrust on one side seek to destroy the burgeoning power of love for fellow man, of respect, of courtesy, and of mutual helpfulness.

Our terrible war of strikes which is threatening to wreck our national and international economy is called strife between capital and labor. Really it is not that simple. Actually it involves the consuming public as much as either combatant. The whole truth is, though, that these things occur because men are guided by distrust and greed.

The Argentines are in a process of collaborating in composition—men such as Ravel, Piere and Strevinsky, Stravinsky's concerto for violin and orchestra was written especially for Dushkin who gave it its premiere performances in many European capitals, with the composer conducting.

arm ourselves against the day when Russia will seek to destroy us. Friends, there is hardly an instance in which a great nation has been destroyed by another. But many have been destroyed by decay from within. Only that is likely to blot out the bright light of America which was born in the blood sacrifice of our heroic fathers to shed its radiance on the troubled hearts of the world. You are the Daughters of the American Revolution. This revolution was generated that men might live in freedom. But more importantly now we must realize that its major function was to allow men to develop a nation in which brotherly love might displace fear and distrust and greed and intolerance.

The truly great events of history are before us. It is the job of such groups as this to see to it. We can win this greatest of man's battles, and we shall, because we must. The "Daughters of the American Revolution" should lead in building the foundation for which the "Spirit of '76" is the foundation.

DUKE COPS 14-6 WIN OVER TECH

Clark Leads Blue Devils Mud Battle Before 30,000 Fans

30,000 Fans

ATLANTA, Nov. 3.—(AP)—Go Clark, Duke's brother-in-law, led the Blue Devils to a 14-6 win in Georgia Tech here today in a battle before a near capacity crowd of 30,000.

The Devils capitalized on the saddle ability of the new navy ensign who was playing his last game before being transferred, to score once in the second period and again in the third.

Clark opened the initial 52-second drive after a listless period featuring numerous punts, passing 30 yards to Gordon Clark. Then he ran six yards to the Tech's Kelly Mote, on an end-around, reaching the 12 and Carver built his way more. Clark pounded two yards to the one and Fred Balladino lunged.

The Devils built the game away from the Tech's quarterback early in second half as Clark set sail from Tech 40 to the Tech two where Go Mathews pulled him down from behind. Again, Clark was three inches short of the goal and more Palladium line players were needed to get the placements by. Sutton followed each of Palladium's scores.

Late in the third quarter, above 50 yards only to be held down at the Duke one-yard line, attack got underway with Jack K Mathews and Johnny McIntosh lining the Duke line for consistent gains to reach the Devils' 20-yard marker.

Then Mathews passed 28 yards. Willie Kilco, who was pulled off of the goal, the Tech smacked the line failed to produce the and the quarter ended just before nap for fourth down.

However, the play was run. Berk passed to Bill Busbin in and zone. The play was nullified, the gains cleared goals which he scored a fourth down snick line by Mathews, punt inches and Carver punted out short to Duke 16.

Tech roared back to score in play. Mathews on the line 6 yards and Mathews on a fake back run the naked reverse won the right to score, reaching up.

PURDUE WINS

LAFAYETTE, Ind., Nov. 23.—Purdue's Badger defense, though loosened from their normal discipline in Seattle last week, did not let the Wisconsin Van der Klok boys as they played the Badgers. Purdue 28-0. The Badgers played a nice game, ended up with a nice 1967, came out scoring twice in the first period.

TULANE UPSETS MISSISSIPPI STATE TEAM BY 14-13 SCORE

Greenies Go 93 Yards In Nine Plays In Third Period For Win

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 3.—(AP)—Statistics of the Tulane-Mississippi State football game:

	Miss State	Tulane
First Downs	18	6
Yards gained rushing	317	147
Forward passes attempted	7	3
Forward passes completed	1	2
Yards by forward passing	5	63
Forward passes intercepted	1	2

Component fumbles recovered	2	1
Yards lost by penalties	15	25

By John Wilds
NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 3.—(AP)—A Tulane football team which had been cuffed around all season rose up with a mighty effort today to knock Mississippi State out of the unbeaten ranks with a 14 to 13 upset victory.

The crowd of more than 25,000 watched in a frenzy throughout the final period as the hard-hitting State eleven smashed once all the way to the three-yard line in a desperate drive to overcome a one-point edge taken by the Greenies in the third.

Harper Davis, State's brilliant halfback and Graham Bramlett, powerful fullback, were stopped short of pay dirt in the decisive moment.

The favored Mississippians jumped off to a first period lead when Den Robinson broke loose on a 22-yard scoring jaunt. It didn't seem so important at that time, when M. T. Burgess was wide with his placement. But before the period was over, Emie Crouch shot a 29 yard pass to Dick Hoot, who out-ran the secondary for the final 39 yards of a 68-yard scoring play. Little Harry Levonian, Tulane's placekick specialist, was accurate.

With Davis the spearhead, State marched 35 yards to score in the second period and go into the intermission with a 13 to 7 margin. Davis took it over from the 11. This time, too late as it developed, Burgess made a perfect placement.

A fumble by Robinson on the Tulane seven, just when State appeared certain to put the game on ice, set the stage for the final touchdown.

Tulane went the 93 yards in nine plays. David Banowetz contributing a 30-yard smash and David Rideout a 47-yard end run.

Rideout finally smacked over from the one-half.

Again Levonian arose to the occasion, booting the point which gave Tulane, beaten by Rice and Auburn and tied by Florida, a triumph over a state team which had figured strongly in post-season bowl and Southeastern Conference championship consideration.

The lineup:

PELS, WINNSBORO PLAY HERE FRIDAY

L. T. I. Hopes To Have Crippled Back Ready For Important Tilt

The Louisiana Training Institute Pelicans, hoping to have their crippled backs ready for duty again this week, will meet the Winnsboro High School Wildcats here Friday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock on the L.T.I. gridiron. The Pelicans' backs, Frank "Arky" Herring and C. Vincent, have been out of action with injuries for two weeks and their inactivity has greatly handicapped the Pelicans.

The clash with Winnsboro will be the second of the season. The Wildcats won the first game.

Despite the fact that the Pels played against the Junction City team here Friday with Quarterback Vincent, their ace guard, Wilford Cormier, who was injured, they played a surprisingly good game. Herring, however, was able to come into the game for a few minutes, throwing one touchdown pass to James Clev before he quit for the evening. Vincent, not able to play at all against Junction City, is expected to overcome difficulties resulting from a pulled leg muscle in time to meet the Wildcats, but Cormier is thought for the season as the result of a leg injury.

Looking like the Pelicans' best all-around player against Junction City was Fullback Maurice Michelet who has been a 60-minute player in just about every game this year. He was a standout last Friday's game, making tackles all over the field and also carrying the ball for substantial gains. He also contributed some fine blocking.

The Pelicans' line also looked improved with Guard Joe Sanborn and End Buck Pleasant looking especially good. Pleasant, L.T.I.'s most experienced player, is regarded as one of the finest ends in the district.

The Winnsboro Wildcats, who have fallen victim to the Ferriday Bulldogs and the Bastrop Rams since they opened with a victory over the Pels, have been pointing for the L.T.I. game with the intention of resuming winning ways. The Wildcats have a large and powerful squad although they are participating in football for the first time this year after a three-year wartime layoff. They have two rapidly developing backs in Left Half Francis and Fullback Hart. An outstanding lineman is Raymond "Happy" Brooks, regular center for the Pelicans her last season.

The Red Shield basketball leagues, which begin play here the first week of December, will complete one round of play before the Christmas holidays. They have added new members in the past few days but there are still openings in both the Senior and Junior leagues. It was announced by Captain Jack Hesketh of the Salvation Army, sponsor of the leagues.

The Senior circuit now includes among its members St. Matthew's Fighting Irish, the Key Club, Red Shield Club, First Baptists, and an independent team composed of Ouachita Parish High school boys who have not yet decided on a name for their quintet. The Key Club is the most recent addition and is composed of Ouachita High students sponsored by the Monroe Kiwanis Club.

Sterling is also reported contemplating entering a team in the circuit. Junior Leaguers have five teams entered so far. They are Spaford's Pharmacy, the First Christian Church, Red Shield Club, Louisiana Training Institute, and St. Matthew's.

Persons or organizations desiring to enter or sponsor teams in either league are advised to contact Captain Hesketh at Salvation Army headquarters here.

Georgia Wins From Chattanooga, 34-7

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., Nov. 3.—(AP)—A stubborn but outclassed University of Chattanooga eleven bowed to the Georgia Bulldogs 34-7, today before an estimated crowd of 7,500.

Georgia's forward line was the margin of difference. The moccasins succeeded in bottling up Ex-GI Charley Trippi most of the afternoon but the much publicized back accounted for two of Georgia's five touchdowns.

The game was closer than the score indicated and twice the Chattanoogans were inside Georgia's ten-yard line only to be stopped by the Bulldog line.

Trippi accounted for a Georgia score early in the third smashing through center from his 20.

Average man's chest circumference should be 10 per cent greater than that of the belt line.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

By Hugh Fullerton, Jr.

NEW YORK, Nov. 3.—(AP)—The New England "grapevine" (maybe it's loaded with sour grapes) brings word that Wyndol Gray, the basketball star from Bowling Green, O., likely won't make the scholastic grade to play at Harvard. If so, he's expected to cast his lot with the New Boston pro team.

The Detroit Lions report a record advance ticket set for the Cleveland Rams . . . Southern scribes are high on Louisiana State's Gene "Red" Knight, who has averaged 8.6 yards each time he has carried the ball and has the best punting average in the Southeastern Conference. . . Coincidence Dept.: Just about the time Happy Chandler left the Senate to become full-time baseball commissioner, Ralph Daughton resigned as president of the Piedmont League to devote all his time to his work in Congress.

Today's Guest Star
Jimmie Murphy, Canton, Ill., Daily Ledger: "Those Chicago football Bears are acting more like baseball Cubs than like full-grown Bears."

Shorts and Shells
The St. Louis Browns are reported to be very peeved at the Middle Atlantic League for forfeiting their claim to the Youngstown, O., territory. . . Reports keep trickling in that Army football players—except kids with a few years of college eligibility left—are more interested in getting out than putting out. But that hardly jibes with the news that the Air Transport Command men played the first round of games and turned over the job to Ernie Pinkert and Ollie Corroll.

Walter Smith, president of the new West Coast Trotting Association, paid $5,000 for the three-year-old, Errol Hanover, at the York, Pa., sale and turned him over to Frank Irvin to train. . . Tub-thumper Bill Wranke means because the U. of Virginia football team, unbeaten in eleven games, isn't getting a tumble in ranking polls, and out-of-state newspapers aren't getting to know it as hard for news to get out of Charlottesville as for customers to get in.

Names Is Names
Rookie Floyd Collins Fogg should develop into a first-rate baserunner for the Nashville Vols next summer. He comes from Sikeston, La.—maybe he should become a pitcher and "Fogs" them in.

Cleaning The Cuff
Julius "Unk" Gmeiner of Adams Township, Pa., high school made a 108-yard touchdown run against Portage, Pa., the other day. Besides being a nickname, the "unk" represents the sound made by hula-hoopers hitting the dirt. . . Hialeah Park boys that it isn't losing a single big stable this winter because of the attraction of those big California purses. . . Mosinee high school in Wisconsin recently played two football games in one day and lost each by a 7-6 score. The kids are petitioning OPA to take the points off touchdowns.

VANDY OUTPLAYS V. M. I. BUT LOSES GAME, 27-13

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Nov. 3.—(AP)—A couple of fast, driving backs—Lynn Chevening and Bob Thomson—led a charging Virginia Military Institute eleven to a 27-13 victory over Vanderbilt here today.

In an inter-sectional game marked by spectacular runs and tackles, Chevening plunged over for three touchdowns and Thomson, exhibiting the best throwing arm seen at Dudley Field in many a day, passed for the other to Sub Back Si Hart in the last minute of play.

Chevening, Thomson and Bill Barrett were the only three men to handle the ball for V. M. I. on running plays and they chalked up net gains of 66, 75 and 53 yards respectively.

Vanderbilt's Bill Eagua and Jimmy Allen had better averages with 89 and 73—but they couldn't make their count, although Vandy racked up 12 first downs to V. M. I.'s 10 and Vandy gained 279 yards rushing to V. M. I.'s 220.

BAYLOR WINS FROM SOUTHWESTERN, 19-0

WACO, Tex., Nov. 3.—(AP)—The Baylor Bears defeated the Southwestern Pirates from Georgetown 19 to 0, here today before a crowd of 5,000 that saw the scrappy Pirates, weakened by the loss of seven of their Navy trainees stars, forced the Bears to show some of their best football to win.

Fought to a standstill in the first period, the Bears came back in the second period to score two touchdowns and add another in the final period. Sammy Pierce, Jack Price and Billy Kimbrough did the touchdown totting for the Bears. Louis Leal missed two of his three tries for point after touchdown.

A clipping penalty in the fourth period robbed the Bears of another touchdown. Speedy George Simms gathered up a pirate punt on his 3-yard marker and raced 97 yards for a score, but the penalty nullified the nice run. Two plays later he raced 45 yards to set the stage for Kimbrough's touchdown.

MICHIGAN RUNS OVER MINNESOTA, 26 TO 0

ANN ARBOR, Mich., Nov. 3.—(AP)—Pouring across three touchdowns in the final period Michigan's surprising Wolverines kicked Minnesota out of the Big Ten title race here today by hammering the Gophers 26 to 0 before the second largest crowd ever to watch a football game in Michigan stadium—53,312. It was the largest in the nation this year.

The Wolverines, who staged a similar last period spree a week ago to whip Illinois 19 to 0, thus achieved their third conference victory against a single loss and stayed in the thick of the Big Ten fight. The loss was the second straight for a Minnesota eleven that bowed to Ohio State last week.

Michigan had a sharp edge in statistics all down the line, making 15 first downs to Minnesota's 11, outgaining the Gophers 261 yards to 134 along the ground and picking up 131 yards on six pass completions in 15 pitches. Minnesota completed three of eight passes for 31 yards.

NAVY EKES OUT TIE WITH IRISH

Scott Runs 60 Yards In Final Quarter To Gain 6 To 6 Deadlock

CLEVELAND, Nov. 3.—(AP)—For the second time in as many Saturdays, Navy's big but inept team came back from the shadow of defeat today to gain a 6-6 tie with Notre Dame on a 60-yard pass interception in the final period and remain shakily in the ranks of the undefeated.

The game ended on a high note of confusion, after the Irish in two plunges from the one-yard line had failed to score what would have been the winning touchdown. The great crowd of 82,000 did not know for several minutes whether it was a Notre Dame victory. They didn't know until the Irish players, their shoulders drooping, quit arguing with the referee and started walking slowly from the field.

The final period was a thriller. With the Irish holding stubbornly to a 6-0 lead gained on a seven-yard plunge by their stocky fullback, Frank Ruggerio, in the opening quarter, time appeared to be running out on the Middies.

Then, with seven minutes left, Frank Daniewicz tried a pass to Bob Skoglund, rambler end. Skoglund just touched the ball and knocked it squarely into the arms of Clyde Scott, Navy halfback from Smackover, Ark., who raced 60 yards and a touchdown for the tying score. Jack Curcense's attempted placement for extra point went wide and the crowd settled back to see a deadlock.

The Irish, however, had different ideas, and with only one minute remaining they put on a sensational 75-yard drive that all but sank the future admirals. George Ratnamer whipped a long pass to Bill Leonard, who raced a total of 61 yards before he was tackled down from behind on a 15-yard line.

A five-yard penalty against the Middies for excessive timeouts took it to the 1, and then Daniewicz pegged a pass to Phil Colella, who was forced out of bounds on the one-yard line. Less than 20 seconds of play remained, and twice Daniewicz took the ball from center and tried to bang across on a quarterback sneak. Both times the Navy line closed up and slammed him to the turf.

Time ran out just as the Irish field general made his second abortive drive. The ball was nudging the chalk line, but it wasn't across. The entire Navy squad went running out on the field and for a time there appeared to be an argument, but it later was explained that the referee was having the two captains flip a coin to see which school would take home the ball.

Navy was extremely lucky to salvage a tie. Notre Dame, seeking its sixth straight victory, struck hard from the start and roundly outplayed the Middies in every department. The drive down to the Navy 10 before they were held. They lost another sure touchdown when Leonard dropped a pass on the goal line.

ALABAMA WALLOPS KENTUCKY, 60 TO 19

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Nov. 3.—(AP)—Alabama employed a withering ground attack today to crush a scrapping Kentucky team, 60-19, with 10-60 persons in the stands.

The only surprise of the game was hitherto impotent Kentucky's ability to score three touchdowns against the bowl-bound Crimson Tide, which gained its sixth straight victory.

The great passing arm of Harry Gilmer was used only twice against Kentucky, both hitting their mark and one connecting for a touchdown, Gilmer's tenth on passes this season.

Hurrying Harry brought the crowd to its feet on two other occasions however, with touchdown runs of 59 and 95 yards.

Alabama Coach Frank Thomas used his second stringers liberally after running up a lead early in the game. The red elephants registered 21 points in the first quarter, 20 in the second, six in the third and 13 in the fourth.

The Crimson broke their runners into open field with the greatest of ease, with six of their nine touchdowns coming on long runs.

Lowell West opened the "Bama scoring" with a 35-yard jaunt on the third play of the game. Norwood Hodges stepped off 17 yards to pay dirt a matter of moments later, and Gilmer then turned in his 59-yard touchdown dash.

GEORGIA TECH TO PLAY 20-GAME CAGE SCHEDULE

ATLANTA, Nov. 3.—(AP)—A 20-game schedule, including home-and-home meetings with seven other Southeastern Conference members, was announced today for Georgia Tech's basketball team.

In addition to playing all conference teams except Vanderbilt, Louisiana State and the two Mississippi members, the Jackets will meet Duke, South Carolina, and Clemson in home-and-home games. They open against the latter five here on December 20, but do not play again until meeting Auburn here on January 4.

The annual conference tournament is scheduled for February 23-March 2 at Louisville, Ky.

The complete schedule:

December 20—Clemson; January 4—Auburn; January 5—At Jackson; January 8—Alabama; January 12—At Tulane; January 16—At Auburn; January 18—Duke; January 19—At Alabama; January 21—Kentucky; January 26—Tennessee; January 28—At Kentucky; February 1—Florida; February 2—South Carolina; February 4—Tulane; February 6—At Georgia; February 9—At Tennessee; February 12—At Duke; February 15—Georgia; February 16—At South Carolina; February 23—At Louisville.

Before the war, women in the United States were buying about 8,000 tons of hairpins annually.

ing the Gophers 261 yards to 134 along the ground and picking up 131 yards on six pass completions in 15 pitches. Minnesota completed three of eight passes for 31 yards.

BUCKEYES RALLY TO BEAT WILDCATS

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 3.—(AP)—Rocked back on their heels by two Northwestern touchdowns in the first 10 minutes, Ohio State's Bucks exploded for 10 points in the last seven minutes to squeeze out a 16 to 14 victory over Northwestern today.

It was "automatic" Max Schnitzler who clinched the verdict, booting a perfect field goal from the 15-yard line with only a minute and 28 seconds to go and with his team trailing, 14 to 13.

The Bucks had battered their way from midfield to the Wildcat 15 only to be stopped there. It was fourth down and 12 yards to go for a first down when Schnitzler galloped out on the field, took careful aim from a difficult angle and drove the ball high over the cross bar.

And then with 18 seconds to go the Bucks were within a whisker of another score when Harold Daugherty intercepted a last-ditch Northwestern pass on his 35 and ran to the Wildcat 20 before he was brought down.

Eight fumbles on which they lost the ball six times came within an ace of costing Ohio State the ball game. It was a fumble which set up Northwestern's first touchdown and it was a bad punt which led to the other.

Times after time the Bucks were thwarted by fumbles and they even blew a scoring chance in the last five minutes with one of those miscues.

The victory was Ohio State's fifth in six games this season and kept the Bucks very much in the race for the Big Ten championship.

PENN WINS EASILY IN GAME WITH PRINCETON

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 3.—(AP)—Doing all its scoring in the first two periods and then sending in second, third and fourth stringers to sit on the lead, the Penn football team turned in its expected victory over Princeton at Franklin Field today, 28 to 0, and incidentally dropped the Tigers from the unbeaten ranks. A crowd of 32,000 looked on.

The Quakers simply had too much from their last-minute defeat at the hands of Navy a week ago. The line was too big and rugged for the inexperienced Bengals, the backs were too fast and shifty and too numerous; the team as a whole tackled so enthusiastically that five times Princeton backs fumbled, and four of the fumbles were recovered by an Alert Penn defender.

George Manger, Penn head coach, for the second straight week was hospitalized with grippe and seeing the game by television, and his assistant, Ray Crowthers and Paul Riblett, directed the team.

BARTOLO AND LESLIE TO MEET AT ORLEANS

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 3.—(AP)—Sal Bartolo, of Boston, recognized by the National Boxing Association as featherweight champion, and Jack Leslie, hard-punching youngster from Flint, Mich., meet here November 19 in a 10-round non-title bout.

Bartolo won the N. B. A. title from Phil Terranova of New York, in a 15-round fight in Boston May 5, 1934. Leslie has piled up six consecutive knockouts in New Orleans and has a large local following.

PURDUE WINS

LAFAYETTE, Ind., Nov. 3.—(AP)—Purdue's Boilermakers, thoroughly recovered from their surprise defeat by Northwestern last week, came up with a workmanlike performance today as they plastered Pittsburgh's Panthers, 28 to 0. The Boilermakers, playing before 15,000, sewed up their sixth victory in seven games early, scoring twice in the first period.

Clark Leads Blue Devils Mud Battle Before 30,000 Fans

ATLANTA, Nov. 3.—(AP)—Georgie Tech here today in a mud battle before a near capacity crowd of 30,000.

The Devils capitalized on the versatile ability of the new navy engine, who was playing his last game before being transferred, to score once in the second period and again in the third.

Clark opened the initial 52-yard scoring drive, after a listless first period featuring numerous punts, by passing 30 yards to Gordon Carver. Then he ran six yards to the Tech 15. Kelly Mote, on an end around, reached the 12 and Carver tumbled his way nine more. Clark pounded two yards to the one and Fred Ballardino lunged over.

The Devils put the game away with another quick touchdown early in the second half as Clark set sail from the Tech 49 to the Tech two where George Mathews pulled him down from behind. Again, Clark was thwarted inches short of the goal and once more Ballardino knifed his way across.

Two perfect placements by Bert Sutton followed each of Ballardino's scores.

Late in the third quarter Tech drove 50 yards only to be held for downs at the Duke one-yard line. The attack got underway with Jack Peck, Mathews and Johnny McIntosh hitting the Duke line for consistent short gains to reach the Devils' 30-yard marker.

Then Mathews passed 28 yards to Walter Kilzer, who was pulled down at the goal line. Three smacks at the line failed to produce the score and the quarter ended just before the snap for fourth down.

However, the play was run and Peck passed to Bill Busbin in the end zone. The play was nullified and the teams charged goals where Duke stopped a fourth down smack at the line by Mathews, just inches short and Carver punted out short to the Duke 26.

Tech roared back to score in two plays. McIntosh hit the line for 13 yards and Mathews, on a fake hand-off, ran the naked reverse wide to the right to score standing up.

RICE OWLS WIN 13-0 VICTORY OVER RAIDERS

HOUSTON, Tex., Nov. 3.—(AP)—Joss Neeley's rejuvenated Rice Owls, who have discovered that winning is more fun than losing, went on to wreck up the Red Raiders from Texas Tech, 13 to 0, this afternoon at Rice Stadium before some 17,000 spectators.

The Owls, but for an opening quarter thrust by big Walter Schlunkman and company, were never in much defensive trouble and pushed over second and third period touchdowns to annex the decision.

The most spectacular play of the afternoon came in the third period when Roney Kenney, that moving little man from Mount Pleasant, Texas, found a hole over the Tech right guard and scampered home free for 70 yards and a touchdown. Neeley's extra point conversion boosted the tally to 13 to 0.

Kenney, who plays football with lots of dash, and he fumbles some, too, uncorked some sensational punting during the afternoon.

George Walmsey, toast of the Tri-Cities, made his appearance and the little Baytown bullet got off some nice runs. Walmsey scored the first Owl touchdown from the Tech two in the closing seconds of the first half.

Times after time the Bucks were thwarted by fumbles and they even blew a scoring chance in the last five minutes with one of those miscues.

The victory was Ohio State's fifth in six games this season and kept the Bucks very much in the race for the Big Ten championship.

BATON ROUGE, La., Nov. 3.—(AP)—The Louisiana State Tigers defeated the Ole Miss Rebels 32-13 tonight before an estimated 20,000 spectators.

The Rebels from Oxford, Miss., unleashed an accurate passing attack which netted one touchdown and made another possible, but Ole Miss was no match for Louisiana State's power.

The victory gave Louisiana a double win over teams from its sister state, Tulane whipping Mississippi State 14-13 earlier in the year in New Orleans.

Louisiana State pushed over two touchdowns in the first period, the first coming three minutes after the opening whistle. The Tigers matched the Rebels' 26 and Dan Sandiford went over from the 16. Gene Knight placed-kicked the extra point. About midway of the quarter, Knight went around left end for 27 yards and another score. Knight missed the try from placement.

Louisiana State added another in the second on a 35-yard end run by Bill Montgomery. Wayne Kingery's kick missed.

Ole Miss got back with their aerial attack at this point and a 25-yard toss from Vernon Wells to Everett Harper placed the ball on the Tigers' one-yard stripe. Wells went over on the next play but Dan Kautz missed the conversion and the half ended Louisiana State 12, Ole Miss 6.

Neither team was able to score in the third quarter, but both threatened. Louisiana State drove from its own 23 to the Ole Miss seven, but the Rebels held them from driving to the Bengal eight. The ball went over, however, and Louisiana State drove out of danger.

The Tigers started their drive and an extra point in the fourth quarter of the final period with Montgomery becoming the hero of the evening at tack.

The smaller Tiger fullback went around right end for 20 yards for a touchdown and Wayne Kingery place- kicked the extra point. A few minutes later Jim Cason circled end for 10 yards and the final Tiger touchdown Kingery's kick missed.

Ole Miss took to the air again and a 30-yard toss from Vernon Wells to Harper was good for a score. Don Kautz converted from placement two minutes before the final whistle blew.

TEXAS AGGIES BEAT PORKERS, 34 TO 0

PAYSONVILLE, Ark., Nov. 3.—(AP)—Pays South and Pox Aggie teams played a first-half scoring marathon before 12,000 disappointed homecomers here this afternoon to witness a belittled University of Arkansas defeat.

The Aggie freshmen backs struck for 20 yards in the first quarter to take all the lead and the converted and ineffective Porkers. Each accounted for two touchdowns.

The triumph shot A. M. Southwest Conference championship hopes racing with two wins and one defeat and eliminated the once-favored Razorbacks from the running.

Coach Homer Norton's Aggies, many of whom were freshmen but playing like seasoned veterans, capitalized on a series of mistakes to start the scoring. The first was a fumble by the Razorbacks on the opening drive.

Coach Homer Norton's Aggies, many of whom were freshmen but playing like seasoned veterans, capitalized on a series of mistakes to start the scoring. The first was a fumble by the Razorbacks on the opening drive.

Four minutes later Bill Ertle of the Aggies scored another field goal. The Arkansas 32, Tom Donnell made a 35-yard end run and placed the ball on the Arkansas 10. Donnell's right guard, Buddee, broke defensive backs and scored the goal stripe standing.

Arkansas was unable to score after the field goal and the game ended. This brought another shut-out tally.

During the last on his own 26, Smith fell behind beautiful down field blocking and sprinted to paysonville. He was intercepted by the Arkansas out of the play on the Razorback ten to remove all doubt that Smith would go all the way.

A. M. and M. countered again early in the second period as Aggie literally flung a 100-yard pass behind them to excellent blocking by the Arkansas line. The Aggie drive was over.

The night's score came in the third with Aggie, a substitute back, scoring over from the four.

VIRGINIA WINS, 13 TO 7
CHARLESTON, W. V., Nov. 3.—(AP)—The University of Virginia, overcoming the handicaps of a water-soaked field and the loss of three top players, came through in the last quarter today to win a 13-7 victory from West Virginia and make it the third straight win for the mountaineers in three weeks.

A crowd of 10,000 saw West Virginia lead the Cavaliers in the second quarter on a 35-yard end run, but the Rebels' pass was intercepted in the last half and the final score was 13-7.

TWIN MAIN EVENT BOOKED AT ARENA

Humberto, Evans, Kuss And Cistoldi To Appear On Mat Program Here

A double main event program featuring Juan Humberto, Don Evans, Otto Kuss, and Angelo Cistoldi has been arranged for next Thursday night's wrestling show here, Promoter
Gus Kallio said last night.

The card for the night will match Humberto, giant Mexican tussler, against Kuss, the lean clown from Minneapolis, and pit Cistoldi, Italian grappler of Boston, against Evans, the wild chair-swinging artist of Buffalo, N. Y.

The order in which the bouts appear on the program will be decided at the inside Thursday night, Promoter Kallio said. The first scrap will start at 8 o'clock, and both battles will have time limits of an hour and fifteen minutes.

Evans, the stocky blonde giant from New York, has attracted the biggest crowds of the fall season to Kallio's arena and chair-swinging episodes in his last two draws have furnished him with a lot of excitement for those fans who like to see wild displays of violence.

First to suffer the wrath of Evans, favorite with the customers, was Alberto Campos, Navajo Indian, who was beaten with a chair in an outside-the-ring fracas nearly two weeks ago. Last Thursday night, with the crowd cheering him on, Evans fanned the villainous Fred von Schacht who had not accurately been beaten in the local arena.

Von Schacht went to the showers with an aching head after Evans had carted his hair with a chair in a melee at the close of the regulation match. The referee ordered Evans to bound to have drawing power this week, but the best bout of the double feature was the scrap between Humberto and Kuss.

The big Mexican looked good in a few matches here around a month ago and Kuss, has been quite a draw card himself. The latter will be the "fanciest" bout as far as the customers are concerned this week.

Of interest to local wrestling fans was the return bout of Bill Barney, West Monroe wrestler, station operator before he left the area, who joined the circus while holding the north Louisiana amateur wrestling championship belt and won in tournament bout. Barney, who also refereed a few matches for Kallio before entering the ring, returned to the arena to face the big Mexican.

NEVILLE TO MEET TALLULAH ELEVEN

Tigers Observe Homecoming Game Here Friday Against Trojans

Neville High School will celebrate its annual homecoming next Friday with a football game between the Neville Tigers and the Tallulah High School Trojans. The Trojans will arrive at 8 o'clock billed as the feature attraction.

Miss Johnny Lou McCarthy will reign as queen of the homecoming festivities, and Miss Martha Pritchard will be maid of honor. All Neville graduates and former students are invited to be on hand for the game.

Devon Payne, head coach at Neville last year, is coaching the Trojans this season, and Coach Bill Ruple, present Tiger mentor, declared last night Payne's presence alone at Tallulah was enough to assure the Bengals they would have a battle on their hands Friday.

"Payne knows every one of our players personally," Ruple said. "He knows their individual abilities and weaknesses, and he can be depended on to come up with something to give us plenty trouble."

And there is a possibility that the Tigers will go into action this week with their "Big Three" of the line broken up for the first time this season. Although Neville topped Winnfield here Friday night, 20 to 0, the victory may have been costly as George Luffey, veteran end, and Hugh Smith, stellar center, went out with injuries which may not keep him out of the lineup entirely Friday, but Smith's injury appeared more serious yesterday. The Tiger physician had X-ray examinations of his leg injury made yesterday, and a report of the physician's findings will be made today.

If Luffey and Smith are sidelined, it will leave only Tackle George Roach of the "Big Three" to spearhead the attack of the forward wall. However, the work of Gladden Walters at center in the place of Smith against Winnfield was mighty pleasing to Coach Ruple and Walters will probably be depended on a lot this week.

Although "Shadow" Brown, Brooks Dawkins, Stoney, Smallwood, and Bobby Holmes will again be depended on in the backfield chores, they will get able assistance from Bucky McElroy, speedy reserve who has made good gains in about every game in which he has played this year. McElroy is still after his first touchdown despite the fact that he has scored three this season; they were erased by penalties. Perry Fisher, who has been winning notice as a reserve in the backfield the past few days, has been slowed with an arm injury suffered off the football field.

ST. MARY'S WALLOPS
SOUTHERN CAR, 26 TO 0
LOS ANGELES, Nov. 3.—(AP)—The alert shifts St. Mary's Gaels, paced by their great Hawaiian halfback, Herman Wadsworth, today tumbled the body Southern California Trojan 26-0, as 50,000 sweltering, tippled fans looked on in the coliseum.

Playing under a 90 degree sun, the Gaels opened the scoring in the second quarter as Wadsworth, cleaved a 65-yard march by skirting right end from the Trojan 20-yard line, threw a 55-yard pass play to Dennis O'Connor set up the touchdown.

The Gaels exploded for two touchdowns in the third period, marching 61 yards in six plays and then piling 22 yards after recovering a Trojan fumble on the ensuing kickoff.

U. S. OFFICIALS ALARMED AT STRIFE IN CHINA
WASHINGTON, Nov. 3.—(AP)—United States diplomatic officials were reportedly alarmed tonight over the spreading civil strife in China.

They are fearful that American hopes for a strong China as an early stabilizing force in Asia may be dashed. They are also concerned that American Marines and army forces there may become involved in the fighting between Communist and government troops without any intention on the part of the White House or State Department that this should happen.

These authorities, who cannot be identified further than as top advisers on Chinese affairs, appear to have split with the line taken by the military officials which is that there is no danger of involvement.

The ranking American military authority on China is General Albert C. Wedemeyer, who recently conferred here with President Truman and Secretary of State Byrnes.

Wedemeyer said later, as reported:

RALEIGH, Nov. 3.—(AP)—North Carolina State's Wolfpack today led by a few yards in the second period here today to push across a touchdown and defeat a fighting Virginia Tech team 6-0 before a homecoming crowd of 10,000.

A 34-yard pass from Tallback Howell to End Bud Courts on the 40-yard line in the second quarter was the payoff kick. Courts' route with not a Trojan in an yard of him stepped across the goal line and that proved to be the ball game. John Block's kick for the extra point was blocked.

SOUTHEASTERN LEAGUE PLANS MEETING SOON
MERIDIAN, Miss., Nov. 3.—(AP)—Southeastern League directors will meet within a week to vote on several matters that have applied for the eighth season in the league. Director Charles Barksdale said today.

Cities that already have qualified for the coming season are Meridian, Jackson, Montgomery, Selma, Anniston, Gadsden and Phenix City.

The league's next regular meeting will be in Columbus, Ohio, Dec. 5, when starting line schedule and other league matters will receive attention.

WITH THE 96th DIVISION IN THE PHILIPPINES—Sgt. Wm. R. Bradley, son of Mrs. V. C. Bradley, Winnsboro, La., has been awarded the Bronze Star Medal for heroic service in connection with military operations against the enemy on Okinawa island.

The citation awarded him by Major General James L. Bradley, commanding the 96th Division, stated: "When his machine gun squad was given the mission of covering the right flank of his company during an attack, Sgt. Bradley placed his gun by a stone wall which was being raked by enemy machine gun and sniper fire. The same fire was causing casualties and impeding the attack. In the face of deadly fire Sgt. Bradley exposed himself over the wall to locate the enemy emplacement. He refused to seek shelter when spigot mortars started falling and throwing stones and debris in the area. Observation was poor because of a slow rain and effective enemy camouflage. When he finally located the enemy, Sgt. Bradley, with professional skill, soon neutralized the emplacement by fire from his own gun. His intrepid devotion to duty reflects great credit upon himself and the military service."

This suggests that the Reds, who took a beating when Moscow signed treaties of friendship with Chungking, may hope to establish themselves in Inner Mongolia in strength, the idea being that geographic proximity to Soviet-dominated Outer Mongolia might make up for what seems to be the complete lack of liaison between the Chinese Reds and Soviet Russia up to this time.

Russians' treaties with Chungking bind her to abstain from interfering with internal Chinese affairs, but the Chinese Communists may hope that in time they can change that.

LOUISIANA STATE DEFEATS OLE MISS TEAM, 32 TO 13

Tigers Protect Early Lead To Chalk Up Another Conference Victory

THE STATISTICS

Table with 2 columns: Ole Miss, La. State. Rows include First Downs, Yards gained rushing, Forward passes completed, etc.

BATON ROUGE, La., Nov. 3.—(P)—The virulent Louisiana State Tigers defeated a smooth-functioning but outclassed University of Mississippi eleven, 32-13, tonight before an estimated 20,000 spectators.

The Rebels from Oxford, Miss., unleashed an accurate passing attack which netted one touchdown and made another possible, but Ole Miss was no match for Louisiana State's power.

The victory gave Louisiana a double win over teams from its sister state. Tulane whipping Mississippi State 14 to 13 earlier in the day in New Orleans.

Louisiana State pushed over two touchdowns in the first period, the first coming three minutes after the opening whistle. The Tigers marched from the Rebels' 36 and Dan Sandifer went over from the 16. Gene Knight place-kicked the extra point. About midway of the quarter, Knight went around left end for 27 yards and another score. Knight missed the try from placement.

Louisiana State added another in the second on a 35-yard end run by Bill Montgomery. Wayne Kingery's kick missed.

Ole Miss got busy with their aerial attack at this point and a 25-yard toss from Vernon Wells to Everett Harper placed the ball on the Tigers' one-yard stripe. Wells went over on the next play but Don Kauzer missed the conversion and the half ended Louisiana State 19, Ole Miss 6.

Neither team was able to score in the third quarter but both threatened. Louisiana State drove from its own 23 to the Ole Miss seven, but the Rebels held them off then drove to the Bengal eight. The ball went over, however, and Louisiana State drove out of danger.

The Tigers added two more and an extra point in the early minutes of the final period with Montgomery bearing the brunt of the running attack.

The speedy Tiger fullback went around right end for 29 yards for a touchdown and Wayne Kingery place-kicked the extra point. A few minutes later Jim Cason circled end for 10 yards and the final Tiger touchdown. Kingery's kick missed.

Ole Miss took to the air again and a 30-yard toss from Vernon Wells to Harper was good for a score. Don Kauzer converted from placement two minutes before the final whistle blew.

The lineups:

Table with 4 columns: Ole Miss, Pos., La. State, Pos. Rows include Strubling, Dale, Blackwell, etc.

Ole Miss substitutions: Ends—Galey, M. Campbell, Robinson. Tackles—Young, Wright, Guards—Boyce, Chestnut, Centers—Bagger, Sacks—Abramham, Bruce, Sears, Hart, Warner, Davis.

Louisiana State substitutions: Ends—Hemphill, Abney, Tackles—Tullos, Land, Davis, Guards—Core, Bertucci, Centers—Kosmak, Backs—Kinnery, Cason, Landry, Montgomery, Gilly.

TEXAS AGGIES BEAT PORKERS, 34 TO 0

PAYMETEVILLE, Ark., Nov. 3.—(P)—Preson Smith and Bob Goode staged a first-half scoring jamboree before 13,500 disappointed homecomers here this afternoon to wallop a befuddled University of Arkansas eleven, 34 to 0.

The tricky freshmen backs struck for 20 points in the first quarter; to take all the life out of the surprised and ineffective Porkers. Each accounted for two touchdowns.

The triumph shot A. and M.'s South-West Conference championship hopes soaring with two wins and one defeat and eliminated the once-favored Razorbacks from the running.

Coach Homer Norton's Aggies, many of whom were freshmen but playing like seasoned veterans, capitalized on a break to start the scoring midway of the opening stanza. Bud Canasa, Arkansas safety man, fumbled an Aggie punt on the Porker seven-yard line, with End Norton Higgins recovering for A. and M. On the first down Smith strode over right guard for the marker.

Four minutes later Bill Engle of the Aggies recovered another fumble by Canasa on the Arkansas 32. Tom Daniels made five and then Goode led right guard, hurdled two defensive backs and crossed the goal stripe standing.

Arkansas was unable to move after taking A. and M.'s third kickoff and punted. This brought another red-tail.

Taking the boot on his own 26, Smith fell behind beautiful down field blocking and sprinted to pay dirt. Higgins blocked John Hoffman of Arkansas out of the play on the Razorback ten to remove all doubt that Smith would go all the way.

A. and M. counted again early in the second period as Goode literally floated over right tackle behind more excellent blocking for six yards, climaxing a 41-yard drive.

The nighttime score came in the third with Mason Matthews, a substitute back, going over from the four.

VIRGINIA WINS, 13 TO 7

CHARLESTON, W. V., Nov. 3.—(P)—The University of Virginia, overcoming the handicaps of a water-soaked field and the loss of three top-ranked players, came through in the last quarter today to win a 13-7 victory from West Virginia and make it the third decision over the mountaineers in three years.

A crowd of 9,000 saw West Virginia tie the Cavaliers in the second quarter by virtue of an intercepted pass but fade away in the last half and allow Virginia to push across the winning score.

TWIN MAIN EVENT BOOKED AT ARENA

Humberto, Evans, Kuss And Cistoldi To Appear On Mat Program Here

A double main event program featuring Juan Humberto, Don Evans, Otto Kuss, and Angelo Cistoldi has been arranged for next Thursday night's wrestling show here. Promoter Gus Kallio said last night.

The card for the night will match Humberto, giant Mexican tussler, against Kuss, the lean clown from Minneapolis, and pit Cistoldi, Italian grappler of Boston, against Evans, the wild chair-swinging artist of Buffalo, N. Y.

The order in which the bouts appear on the program will be decided at the ringside Thursday night. Promoter Kallio said. The first scrap will start at 8 o'clock, and both battles will have time limits of an hour and fifteen minutes.

Evans, the stocky blonde giant from New York, has attracted the biggest crowds of the fall season to Kallio's arena and chair-swinging episodes in his last two brawls have furnished plenty of excitement for those fans who like to see wild displays of violence.

First to suffer the wrath of Evans, favorite with the customers, was Alberto Campos, Navajo Indian, who was beaten with a chair in an outside-the-ring fracas nearly two weeks ago. Last Thursday night, with the crowd cheering him on, Evans tamed the villainous Fred von Schacht who had not previously been beaten in the local arena.

Von Schacht went to the showers with an aching head after Evans had parted his hair with a chair in a melee at the close of the regulation match.

The reappearance of Evans is bound to have drawing power this week, but the best bout of the double feature looms as the scrap between Humberto and Kuss. The big Mexican looked good in a few matches here around a month ago, and Kuss has been quite a drawing card himself. The latter will be the "fair-haired boy" as far as the customers are concerned this week.

Of interest to local wrestling fans is news of the return here of Bill Barney, West Monroe service station operator before the war, who joined the navy while holding the north Louisiana amateur wrestling championship belt he won in tournament here. Barney, who also refereed a few matches for Kallio before entering the navy, returned with his discharge last week. He was introduced at the ringside during last Thursday's card.

Barney had gained about 20 pounds since leaving for the navy, and Promoter Kallio has been eyeing the returned sailor with the idea of using him as a referee at an early date. Barney plans to reenter business here.

WILLIAM AND MARY'S COLLEGE UPSETS MARYLAND

COLLEGE PARK, Md., Nov. 3.—(P)—A Maryland team playing as confidently as if it had the game in its hip pocket found itself literally swamped under an avalanche of last half touchdowns as William and Mary's alert Indians came from behind to upset the favored old liners, 33 to 14.

Trailing by a touchdown with Maryland apparently in a winning saddle, the Virginians really blew the contest apart within a space of ten minutes, beginning midway of the third period. Four touchdowns were rushed over in that time—two on passes of 45 and 74 yards, one on a recovered fumble behind the goal and another on a blocked punt—to leave the apparently better equipped Marylanders gasping under the onslaught.

AMENDMENTS REQUESTED

LEXINGTON, Ky., Nov. 3.—(P)—Secretary W. D. Funkhouser today rekindled members of the Southeastern Conference that they have but two more weeks in which to submit proposed amendments for consideration at the annual meeting in Baton Rouge, La., Dec. 14-15.

Under conference rules, all proposals must be submitted in writing by November 17 this year, in time for mailing to members three weeks before the meeting.

YALE SCORES 6-0 WIN OVER DARTMOUTH TEAM

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Nov. 3.—(P)—Yale's football team, already boasting of one of the best lines in "Ivy League" gridiron circles, gave thanks to the Navy today for a 6 to 0 victory over its ancient enemy, Dartmouth.

The Navy's principal contribution was Art Fitzgerald, whose name wasn't even on the program and who was a stranger to most of the 45,000 spectators who formed the largest crowd in Yale bowl since 1941. Fitzgerald, a one-time Notre Dame substitute, came to Yale Nov. 1 by a navy transfer and celebrated his first game in a blue jersey today by ripping off large chunks of yardage and scoring the only touchdown on 12-yard end run in the third quarter.

Tennessee rallies to beat North Carolina

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., Nov. 3.—(P)—Tennessee Volunteers exploded into frantic scoring here this afternoon and raced to three touchdowns in the final period as they defeated North Carolina's Tarheels 20-6.

A crowd of 18,000 saw the game, scoreless until the last quarter. Carolina opened the scoring on a pass. Tom Gorman to Bill Pritchard, after Tennessee had stopped them previously on the one.

The Vols struck back on the next kickoff, sub blocking Back Bobby Lund rating 80-yards for a touchdown. Wingback Casey Stephenson converted to put Tennessee ahead 1-6. Tailback Buster Stephens scored the next two, one on a pass interception.

LIONS DEFEAT CORNELL

NEW YORK, Nov. 3.—(P)—Five touchdowns in the first three periods by Gene Rossides enabled the Columbia football Lions to defeat Cornell 34-26 today and remain undefeated in the 1945 season.

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 3.—(P)—The alert, shifty St. Mary's Gaels, paced by their great Hawaiian halfbacks, Herman Wademyer, today trounced the beefy Southern California Trojans 26-0, as 80,000 sweltering, stupefied fans looked on in the coliseum.

Playing under a 90 degree sun, the Gaels opened the scoring in the second quarter as Wademyer clinaxed a 65 yard march by skirting right end from the Trojan one yard line. Wademyer's 51 yard pass play to Dennis O'Connor set up the touchdown.

The Gaels exploded for two touchdowns in the third period, marching 61 yards in six plays and then piling 22 yards after recovering a Trojan fumble on the ensuing kickoff.

RUEL NAMED ASSISTANT TO 'HAPPY' CHANDLER

CHICAGO, Nov. 3.—(P)—Albert E. Chandler, commissioner of baseball, today appointed Harold "Muddy" Ruel of the Chicago White Sox as coaching staff as his special assistant succeeding Leslie M. O'Connor.

Ruel, a lawyer, will take over his duties at Cincinnati, Chandler's new headquarters, Dec. 15.

O'Connor had resigned to become the new general manager of the Chicago White Sox Dec. 15.

Ruel said he was delighted with his appointment, but would miss his associations with the White Sox with whom he served for 12 years.

NORTH CAROLINA STATE BEATS VIRGINIA TECH

RALEIGH, Nov. 3.—(P)—North Carolina State's Wolfpack rode high for a few minutes in the second period here today to push across a touchdown and defeat a fighting Virginia Tech team, 6-0, before a homecoming day crowd of 10,000.

A 34-yard pass from Tailback Howard Turner to End Bobby Courts on a Gobler first yard stripe was the payoff trick. Courts, with not a Techman in ten yards of him, stepped across the goal line and that proved to be the ball game. John Block's kick for the extra point was blocked.

SOUTHEASTERN LEAGUE PLANS MEETING SOON

MERIDIAN, Miss., Nov. 3.—(P)—Southeastern League directors will meet within a week to vote on several cities that have applied for the eighth berth in the league. Director Charles Buckwalter said today.

Cities that already have qualified for the coming season are Meridian, Jackson, Montgomery, Selma, Anniston, Gadsden and Pensacola.

The league's next regular meeting will be in Columbus, Ohio, Dec. 5, when starting date, schedule and other league matters will receive attention.

League President Stuart Stephenson said Vicksburg had applied and that Chattanooga Valley was seeking membership in the Class B circuit. Other applicants were not disclosed.

occupy key points in Inner Mongolia before Central troops could get there in force.

This suggests that the Reds, who took a beating when Moscow signed treaties of friendship with Chungking, may hope to establish themselves in Inner Mongolia in strength, the idea being that geographic proximity to Soviet-dominated Outer Mongolia might make up for what seems to be the complete lack of liaison between the Chinese Reds and Soviet Russia up to this time.

Russia's treaties with Chungking bind her to abstain from interfering with internal Chinese affairs, but the Chinese Communists may hope that in time they can change that.

U. S. OFFICIALS ALARMED AT STRIFE IN CHINA

WASHINGTON, Nov. 3.—(P)—United States diplomatic officials were reported alarmed tonight over the spreading civil strife in China.

They are fearful that American hopes for a strong China as an early stabilizing force in Asia may be upset. They are also concerned that American marines and army forces there may become involved in the fighting between Communist and government troops—without any intention on the part of the White House or State Department that this should happen.

These authorities, who cannot be identified further than as top advisers on Chinese affairs, appear to have split with the line taken by the military officials—which is that there is no danger of involvement.

The ranking American military authority on China is General Albert C. Wedemeyer, who recently conferred here with President Truman and Secretary of State Byrnes.

Wedemeyer said later, as reported

Sky Raiders Score Early To Shade Louisiana Tech In Ruston Game

RUSTON, La., Nov. 3.—(P)—The Barksdale Field Sky Raiders defeated the Louisiana Tech Bulldogs, 12 to 7 here tonight.

Miramanian started the show with a six yard touchdown run early in the first period. Bob Schatzabel's kick was blocked and the Raiders led, 6 to 0.

In the second frame Miramanian tossed a beautiful pass to Bob Rogers who scored standing up on a play netting 35 yards. The try for point failed. The first half was rough with the Barksdales being penalized six times for 40 yards and the Bulldogs, eight times for 40 yards. Miramanian and Cochard sparked the Raiders' play.

The Techmen got rolling late in the half when Jack Britton took a kick on the Bulldog six and scampered 48 yards before being nailed.

A. C. Schiro, a newcomer on the Tech squad from Baton Rouge, scored from the Barksdale 17 in the final period and Joe Michael kicked the extra point for the Bulldogs' only score. The Techmen drove to the Raider 1-yard stripe as the ball game ended.

Barksdale led in first downs with 15 to 11 for Louisiana Tech. An average crowd watched the game in chilly football weather.

This leaves Barksdale with four games won and four lost. Tech has lost twice while winning five games.

scene an hour and a half later, radioed that the transport was still afloat and persons could be seen clinging to the wreckage.

The ATC did not disclose names of transport's passengers and crewmen, but it was believed they all were military personnel, except the civilian woman. There was no announcement as to the cause of the forced landing.

The transport plane went down only 50 miles from the regular route of patrol ships but surface craft apparently had not reached the scene at the time of the radio report from the search plane.

Enough seaplanes have been dispatched to the area to accommodate 27 survivors, but rescue from the air will depend much upon condition of the sea, the ATC said.

MRS. REID IS GUEST SPEAKER

Local Advertising Manager Will Talk At State Convention

Mrs. Irene Reid, advertising manager of the News-Star and Morning World, is being accorded considerable honor today when she appears as guest speaker before the Oklahoma Press Association at Oklahoma City, in annual convention. She will speak at their invitation on the general subject of newspaper advertising.

She will deliver her address this morning and on the same program will be Henry Ford, the third.

Mrs. Reid's invitation to appear as speaker at this time, and before this large assemblage, resulted from extensive publicity given through the press. A folder prepared by her entitled "Mr. Merchant Meet the People Who Meet the Deadline," an extremely clever brochure which was extensively circulated, also was partly responsible for her invitation to visit the state press meeting.

She made the trip by plane and will return the same way.

Psychology tests made at Purdue show that wearing spectacles makes a person look more honest and intelligent.

RAW DAIRY HERDS ARE GETTING TESTS

The Ouachita Parish Health Department, with the cooperation of the Bureau of Animal Industry, is testing all retail raw dairy herds in Ouachita parish for T. B. and bangs disease, it was announced yesterday. The work has begun and will be completed during the month of November.

The testing of raw dairy herds for T. B. and bangs is conducted each year. Bangs disease in the cow, known as contagious abortion, will give users of this milk from infected cows undulant fever when consumed raw. Undulant fever is considered rather serious due to its prolonged duration. A victim of undulant fever runs an irregular temperature, will suffer pain in joints and muscles and will have profuse sweating spells and chills.

While the health department is taking every precaution possible to protect users of raw milk against undulant fever, the only positive precaution is the use of pasteurized milk, as not one case of undulant fever has ever been traced to pasteurized milk.

Dr. L. E. Maddox, veterinarian with the Bureau of Animal Industry, is doing the testing. Dr. Maddox was recently transferred to Monroe from Tallulah and has an office in the health center.

THREE PARISHES WILL BE AIDED

Morehouse, Franklin and Jackson To Get Road Financing

BATON ROUGE, La. Nov. 3 (Special) Morehouse parish will receive $9,985.38 of gravel through state aid, according to D. Y. Smith, director of the Department of Highways.

Approximately 34.75 miles of public roads will benefit, with dumping and spreading of gravel being under the supervision of the police jury.

The roads were previously designated by the police jury. Reimbursement will be made in an amount not to exceed $9,985.38.

The contract for the material was awarded to the Monroe Sand and Gravel company.

The spreading of the gravel is scheduled to start November 14 and be completed by February 14, 1946, states Chief Engineer Harry B. Henderlite. Franklin parish roads are to receive $9,986.36 Smith said.

Various roads—totaling 13 1/2 miles—have been designated to receive the gravel by the police jury.

The contract, states Chief Engineer Harry B. Henderlite, has been let to the R. G. Cruise Lumber company of Sicily Island.

Supervision of the spreading of the material will be left to the police jury, it was explained.

Work should be started by November 5 and completed within a period of 60 days.

The roads included were previously designated by the police jury—in a recently enacted resolution.

A total of $10,000 will be expended, according to Jackson parish roads, according to Smith.

It was pointed out that 6,772 cubic yards of gravel were to be furnished—with reimbursement being offered at the rate of $1.35 per cubic yard—or a total of $9,142.84.

Approximately 1500 feet of culvert pipe on certain roads in Wards 6 and 7, as outlined by resolution of the police jury, will be refunded in an amount not to exceed $857.16.

SEVERAL DIPHTHERIA CASES ARE REPORTED

During the past week there have developed in Ouachita parish several cases of diphtheria, Ouachita parish health officials reported yesterday. Normally the incidence of diphtheria is highest during the fall and winter seasons of the year, generally during the late autumn months.

Diphtheria is essentially a childhood disease. Maximum susceptibility occurs between the ages of one and ten years, although persons of any age may be susceptible. Infants whose mothers are immune are relatively immune until about six months old. This passive congenital immunity usually disappears completely by about the ninth month. At least 70 to 75 percent of the two-year-old children are susceptible to diphtheria.

Mothers are urged, due to the presence of diphtheria in Ouachita parish, to have children immunized

NOW IN MANILA

Sgt. Jack L. Holloway, formerly employed by the News-Star-World, is now a public relations officer in the 29th replacement depot located a short distance from Manila.

His parents are Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Holloway of Spencer, La. Jack was graduated from Ouachita Parish High School and attended Northeast Junior College, Monroe. Inducted into the army August 21, 1943, the soldier was stationed in the States at Camp Beauregard, La., Camp Abbot, Ore., and Camp Beale and Camp Stoneman, Calif. He shipped overseas from San Francisco in August, 1944, and has served overseas on New Guinea and in the Manila area of the Philippines.

YES, BUD, AND THAT'LL MAKE IT TOUGH TO GET POOR OLD ALLEY BACK HERE!

WELL, NOW, OOOOLA, I HOPE YOU'RE HAPPY!

HAPPY ME??

I HAVEN'T BEEN HAPPY SINCE YOUR SILLY OLD MACHINE DRAGGED ALLEY AND ME UP INTO THIS AWFUL TWENTIETH-CENTURY MADHOUSE! I HATE IT, YOU HEAR? AND YOU TOO, YOU COLD-BLOODED FISH!

OOOLA! YOU CAN'T MEAN THAT! WHY, ELBERT AND I HAVE TRIED TO...

THE HECK I CAN'T! WHAT DO YOU OLD DOPES CARE WHAT YOU DO TO PEOPLE'S LIVES? BAH! I WISH I COULD GO BACK HOME TO MOO AND NEVER LAY EYES ON YOU AGAIN!

MY STARS, I NEVER REALIZED WHAT I'VE DONE TO THESE POOR, SIMPLE KIDS! WHAT A DUMB, BLIND FOOL I'VE BEEN!

I'M SORRY TO SEE YOU GO LIKE THIS-- BUT DON'T WORRY ABOUT ALLEY! WHEN WE GET HIM BACK WE'LL SEND HIM ALONG TO KEEP YOU COMPANY!

BUT I'LL DO WHAT I CAN TO RECTIFY THIS HORRIBLE THING!

DON'T BOTHER! THE BIG DOPE DOESN'T MEAN A THING TO ME!

MEANWHILE, IN ANOTHER TIME-ERA, OUR HERO (OUT COLD) REACHES THE CAMP OF THE CIMBRIAN CHIEF

YOU MEAN OUR DAUGHTER PICKED THAT THING BEING LUGGED INTO HER TENT FOR A HUSBAND?

LOOK, MY FRAU, I'M STILL CHIEF OF THIS TRIBE... AND IF OUR LITTLE GIRL THINKS THE BARBARIAN IS ALL RIGHT, SHE CAN HAVE HIM!

OH, YES, MAMA, HE'S SO BRAVE AND STRONG, HE'S WONDERFUL!

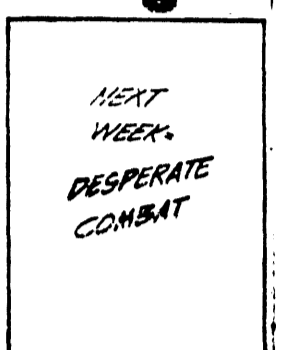

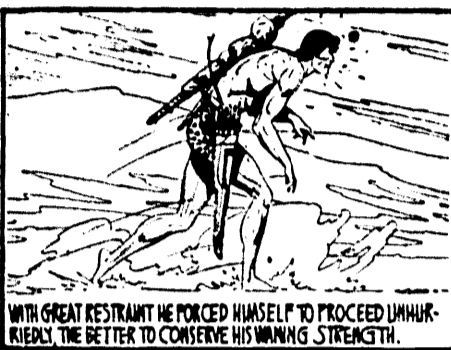

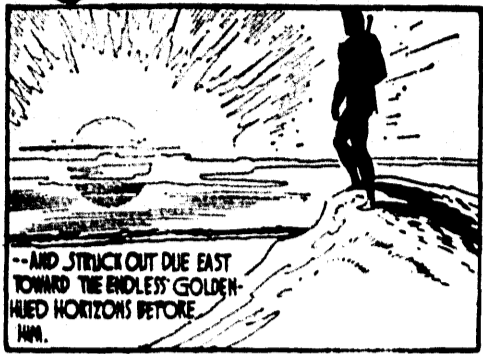

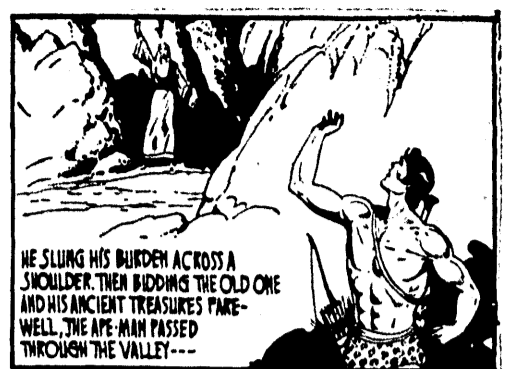

VERY WELL, IF HE'S WHAT YOU WANT FOR A HUSBAND, SO BE IT!

HUH? HUSBAND ME?

DEAR, WILL YOU GO TO THE GROCERY STORE AND GET THIS LIST OF THINGS FOR ME?

I LOST THE LIST--DO YOU REMEMBER WHAT I BOUGHT?

NO, THE OTHER CLERK WAITED ON YOU AND HE'S OUT TO LUNCH!

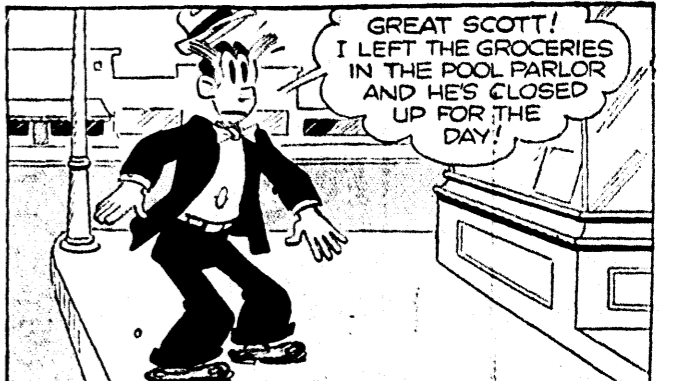

HOW ABOUT A GAME OF POOL BEFORE YOU GO HOME DAGWOOD?

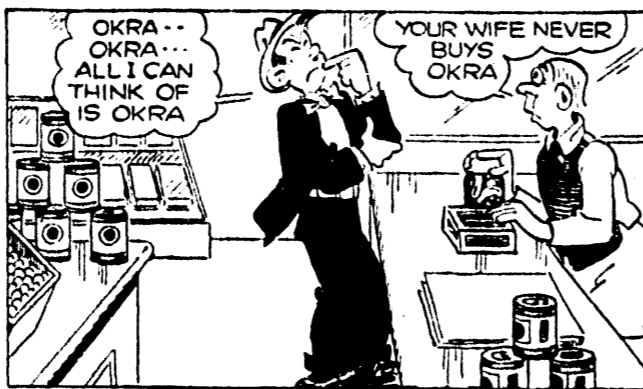

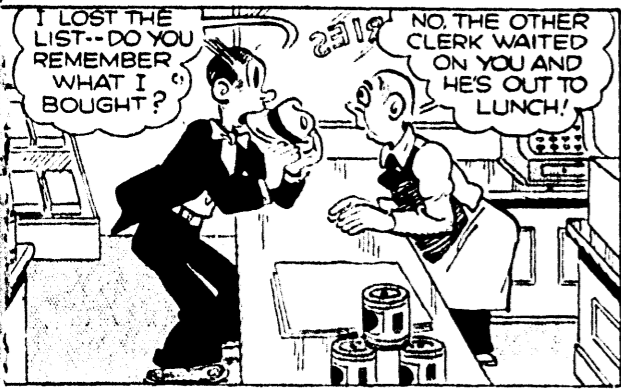

I HAVE TO CLOSE UP THE PLACE, BOYS, I'M GOING TO A WEDDING THIS AFTERNOON

OKAY WALDO, WE'RE JUST FINISHING ONE GAME

GREAT SCOTT! I LEFT THE GROCERIES IN THE POOL PARLOR AND HE'S CLOSED UP FOR THE DAY!

OKRA--OKRA--ALL I CAN THINK OF IS OKRA

YOUR WIFE NEVER BUYS OKRA

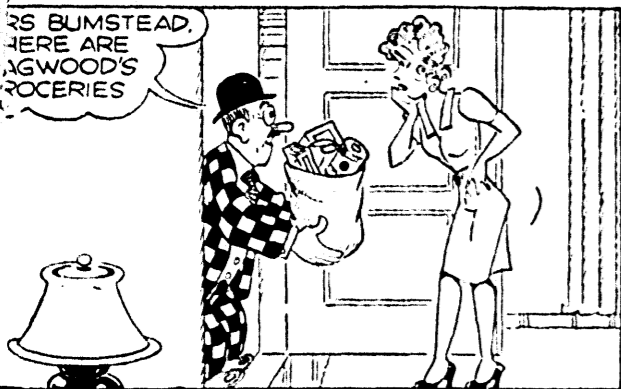

DAGWOOD! YOU DIDN'T BRING A SINGLE ONE OF THE THINGS I WROTE ON THE LIST!

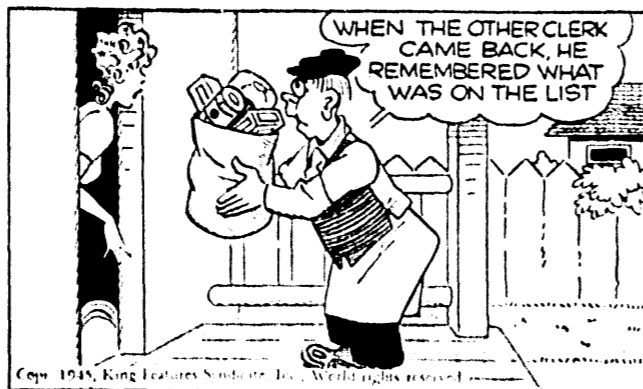

REALLY, NOT ONE!

OH, BOY! HOW DID DAGWOOD'S GROCERY LIST GET IN MY POCKET? I'D BETTER HELP HIM OUT

IS BUMSTEAD, HERE ARE DAGWOOD'S GROCERIES

WHEN THE OTHER CLERK CAME BACK, HE REMEMBERED WHAT WAS ON THE LIST

I'M THE MANAGER OF THE POOL PARLOR--DAGWOOD LEFT THESE GROCERIES

I'D LIKE TO GO OUT WITH YOU, SOMETIME AND SEE WHAT YOU DO WHEN I'M NOT WITH YOU!

MOTHER--HAVE YOU EVER SEEN MR. AND MRS. ELTON SEED? MEMBER--THEY LIVED ON TOP A HILL JUST IN THE VIEW!!

GOODNESS--WE HAVEN'T SEEN THEM IN YEARS--

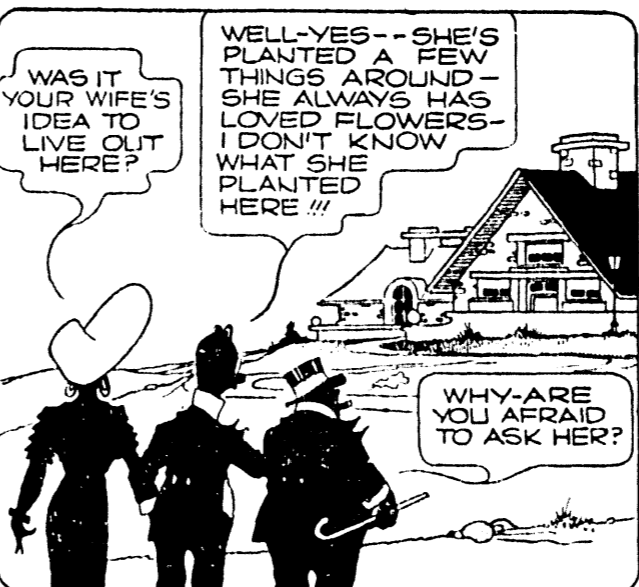

BY GOLLY--I RECALL HIM BRAGGIN' ABOUT THE VIEW--I CAN REMEMBER HIM SAYIN'--

JUST LOOK AT THAT VIEW--IT'S WORTH A MILLION DOLLARS--I'VE ALWAYS WANTED TO GET OUT OF THE CITY SO I COULD HAVE A PANORAMA LIKE THIS--

BY GOLLY--IF IT WASN'T FOR THAT OLD GLUE FACTORY--YOU COULD SEE DINTY'S PLACE!

IT'S GRAND!

WAS IT YOUR WIFE'S IDEA TO LIVE OUT HERE?

WELL--YES--SHE'S PLANTED A FEW THINGS AROUND--SHE ALWAYS HAS LOVED FLOWERS--I DON'T KNOW WHAT SHE PLANTED HERE!!!

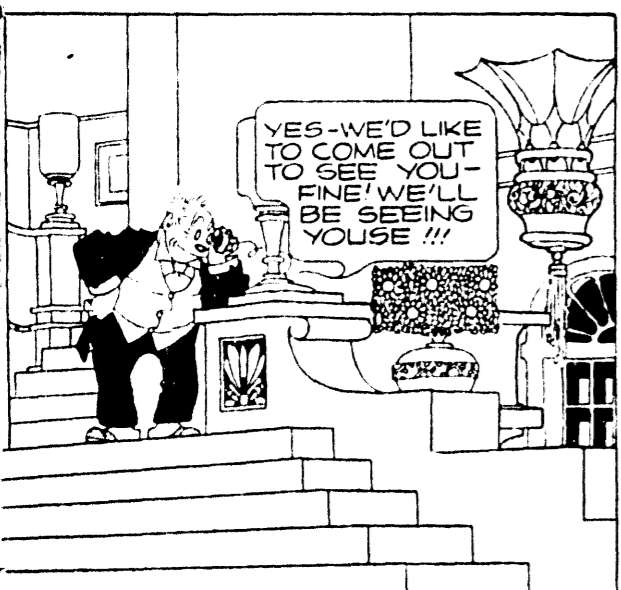

WHY--ARE YOU AFRAID TO ASK HER?

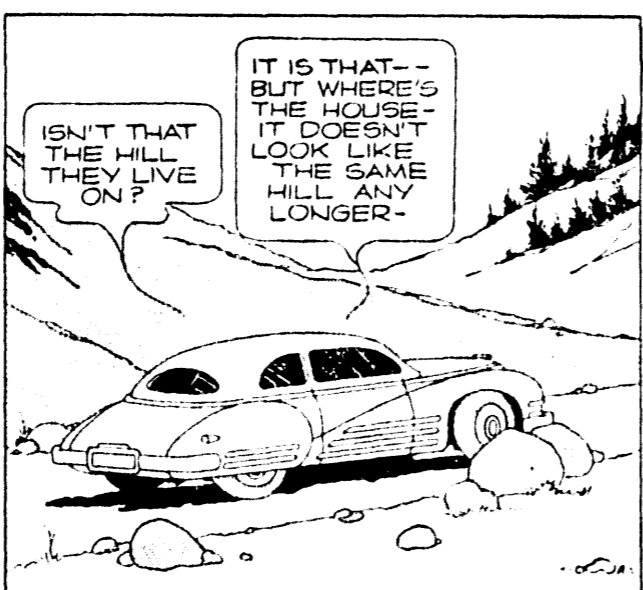

I WONDER IF THEY STILL ENJOY THAT BEAUTIFUL VIEW?

LET'S CALL THEM UP AND GO OUT TO SEE THEM!

ALL RIGHT!! I'D LIKE TO SEE THAT SIGHT AGAIN--IT GIVES YOU A GREAT VIEW OF TH' SURROUNDIN' COUNTRY!!

YES--WE'D LIKE TO COME OUT TO SEE YOU--FINE--WE'LL BE SEEING YOUSE!!!

IT IS THAT--BUT WHERE'S THE HOUSE--IT DOESN'T LOOK LIKE THE SAME HILL ANY LONGER--

MY GOODNESS--WE MAY GET LOST--YOU CAN'T SEE A THING WITH ALL THESE TREES--

BY GOLLY--YOU CAN'T EVEN SEE TH' HOUSE--IT LOOKS AS IF HIS WIFE HAD HER WAY IN RAISIN' FLOWERS--INCLUDIN' TREES--

BUT, FREDDIE! WHY DON'T YOU PUT ON THE SPARE?

THIS, MY DEAR, IS THE SPARE!

REMEMBER THAT NUMBER, VIVIAN!

INVITE US TO YOUR NEXT BLOWOUT! SMITH GARAGE XZ-7848

O-K, SLUG, I'VE GOT IT!

IF IT WEREN'T FOR YOU GUYS, I THINK I COULD PICK UP A RIDE!

BACK TO THE OPEN ROAD

OF COURSE, NUTTSY, IT'S NICE TO HAVE YOU BACK, BUT I STILL THINK YOU LOOKED BETTER IN A UNIFORM!

I SUPPOSE WE'LL HAVE TO PUT UP WITH THAT UNTIL JUNIOR CALMS DOWN AND GETS BACK TO CIVILIAN FLYING AGAIN!

TRY TO LOOK ON THE BRIGHT SIDE, ARNOLD. IT'S ONLY FLAT ON THE BOTTOM!

I GUESS WE'LL EAT RIGHT HERE. THIS LOOKS LIKE THE END OF THE LINE!

JUNGLE JIM

Registered U. S. Patent Office.

JIM STARTS TO BACK THE CAR DOWN THE MOUNTAIN TRAIL TO ESCAPE THE SAVAGES' TRAP... BUT THE PYGMIES BLOCK THEM WITH A ROCK-SLIDE.

AN ARROW GRAZES LIL'S ARM. SHE GASPS, BUT SAYS HASTILY: "DON'T MIND ME. KEEP SHOOTING."

11-4-45

AS THE PYGMIES CLOSE IN, THE FILIPINO DRIVER GASPS, "MAYBE CLEAR AWAY TREE WITH DYNAMITE, SEÑOR?" JIM GRINS WITH RELIEF: "DYNAMITE? LET'S HAVE IT, QUICK!"

THE TYRANT, KANG, IS NOW A HUNTED BEAST, AS ALL LOYAL FREEMAN AID THE SEARCH. ONE MAN STOPS A PASSING POLICE CAR --

DICTO, HEAD OF THE NEW MONGO BUREAU OF INVESTIGATION, REPORTS TO FLASH: "WE HAVE A LEAD. THIS CITIZEN, TRAITO, SAYS HE SAW KANG ROCKETING TOWARD DESERTA!"

SCIENCE CHECKS THE INFORMER. PUT UNDER VERIGAS, TRAITO HELPLESSLY BABBLES THE TRUTH: "KANG PAID ME TO LIE. HE AND GRUSOM AND EVILA ARE HIDING IN THE CITY. NO-BODY KNOWS WHERE."

FLASH AND DICTO RACE TO SEARCH EVILA'S TOWN HOUSE, WHERE THEY FIND HER LOVELY TWIN SISTER, DARLIA. SHE SAYS SINCERELY, "I HAVEN'T SEEN HER. I'D HELP IF I COULD. IT BREAKS MY HEART THAT EVILA HAS CHOSEN TO GO WITH KANG, THE CRUEL!"

BUT EVILA IS NOT FAR AWAY. IN A HIDEOUT KANG HAD LONG USED FOR HIS WICKED DOINGS, THEY PLOT TO STEAL FLASH'S ATOM-WEAPONS "BUT FIRST, GRUSOM, SILENCE THAT BABBLING FOOL, TRAITO. HE MAY REMEMBER THIS SPOT."

THE TORTURER KNOWS SECRET PASSAGES IN MONGO PRISON THAT THE NEW GOVERNMENT HASN'T DISCOVERED. TRAITO IS SPEECHLESS WITH FRIGHT THE INSTANT BEFORE HE BECOMES SPEECHLESS FOREVER.

MRS. REID'S GUEST

Local Advertisers Will Talk Conventions

Mrs. Irene Reid, editor of the News-World, is being honored today when she speaks before the Press Association at its annual convention at their invitation of local newspaper men. She will deliver a paper on "The Future of the Newspaper" and on the "Mrs. Reid's Invitations." Mrs. Reid's invitation to speak at this time is a special honor. She is a member of the Press Association and has been a speaker at its annual conventions for many years. She made the trip to the convention at her own expense.

MR. TIDNAB IS SO THOUGHTFUL AND CONSIDERATE--HE HAS PROVIDED A HOUSE FOR THE TOGGLES, SO THAT THEY CAN FEEL AT HOME....

MR. TIDNAB SURE WANTS YOU FOLKS TO BE HAPPY HERE-- YOUR OWN FURNITURE, JUST LIKE YOUR OWN HOME!

YEAH! HE'S SO GOOD TO US!

IT IS A FINE OLD HOUSE--IMAGINE! BUILT WAY BACK BEFORE THE REVOLUTION!

I COULD ENJOY IT MORE IF IT WERE SOMEWHERE ELSE! ...NOT HERE ON SPOOK ISLAND!

IT'S BEEN VACANT FOR A HUNDRED AND FIFTY YEARS, THEY SAY-- BUT IT'S BEEN KEPT IN PERFECT CONDITION!

YES-- ALMOST AS IF IT HAD JUST BEEN BUILT-- ISN'T THAT ODD?

WHY DID NO ONE LIVE HERE, IN ALL THOSE MANY YEARS?

WELL, LADY, I ONLY KNOW WHAT THE OLD TIMERS SAY--

THEY SAY PLenty O' FOLKS USED TO MOVE IN HERE-- BUT NONE OF 'EM EVER STAYED A FULL NIGHT! --GHOST O' SOME OLD GEEZER-- FELLA THAT BUILT THIS PLACE, THEY CLAIM--

WAY I GET IT, HE WAS AN ENGLISHMAN-- LORD TWIFFLEPIP-- TH' KING GAVE HIM THIS ISLAND-- RICH FELLA-- NATURALLY A LOT O' FOLKS HATED HIM FOR THAT--

WELL, ALONG CAME TH' REVOLUTION-- MOST FOLKS WITH PROPERTY, LIKE THIS LORD TWIFFLEPIP, WERE FOR ENGLAND-- BUT MORE FOLKS, WITH NOTHIN', WERE FOR TH' REVOLUTION-- SO-O-O--

IT WAS A FINE, PATRIOTIC THING TO GANG UP ON THIS HERE LORD AND GRAB WHAT HE HAD-- BUT HE WAS A TOUGH OLD GOAT AND HE PUT UP A FIGHT--

SO THEY KILLED TH' DIRTY OLD TORY AND DIVIDED HIS SILVERWARE AND WHATEVER ELSE THEY COULD CARRY OFF--

TH' LOCAL LEADER, THEY SAY, MOVED INTO THIS HOUSE-- BUT HIM AND HIS FAMILY MOVED OUT, TH' FIRST NIGHT!

WHAT AN OUTRAGEOUS YARN! THAT'S NOT AT ALL THE WAY TH' REVOLUTION WAS! DIDN'T YOU EVER READ YOUR HISTORY IN SCHOOL?

AND A GHOST! PURE NONSENSE, OF COURSE!

JUST A STORY TO SCARE KIDS!

I-- I'M NOT SCARED OF GHOSTS, EXACTLY--

SMILIN'

JACK, Y'SAY SADDLESOAP JONES IS A PROFESSOR, RANCHER, AVIATOR, FARMER AND CITRUS GROWER-- AND HAS PROMOTED AN IDEA TO BREAK UP A HURRICANE WITH AN ATOM BOMB!

YEAH, HE'S AMAZING! HE WAS A CIVILIAN B-29 TEST PILOT AND HE IS GOING TO PILOT THE B-29 HIMSELF ON HIS EXPERIMENT!

JACK

SOME EXPERTS THINK THAT A BOMB COULD BREAK UP THE TERRIFIC WIND CURRENTS AND THE VACUUM IN A HURRICANE--

--- SADDLESOAP HAS FARMERS, RANCHERS AND STATE OFFICIALS IN THE HURRICANE BELT BACKING HIM!

THEY CONTRIBUTED ENOUGH MONEY TO BUY A B-29 AND TWO ATOM BOMBS FROM THE GOVERNMENT--

--- IF IT WORKS, MILLIONS OF DOLLARS IN PROPERTY AND COUNTLESS LIVES WILL BE SAVED!

SADDLESOAP, HIS CREW, SOME GOVERNMENT OFFICIALS AND WEATHER EXPERTS WILL TRY IT TOMORROW-- A HURRICANE IS NOW RAGING AT SEA--

--- CINDY IS ALSO GOING ALONG TO WRITE A STORY ABOUT IT FOR THE SYNDICATE SHE USED TO WORK FOR!

I WOULD BUT C-NOTE IS AWAY AGAIN FOR SOME STRANGE REASON, AND I WANT TO TAKE ADVANTAGE OF HIS ABSENCE!

THAT'S WHY WE'RE FLYING TO LANGLEY FIELD NOW-- I WANT TO CHECK TH' POSSIBILITY OF USING ROCKETS TO ASSIST THE TAKE-OFF OF MY GLIDER TRAINS--

MISS CINDY, ARE YOU READY TO JOIN OUR PARTY IN OUR DARING EXPERIMENT TOMORROW?

YES, MR. SADDLESOAP JONES!

I WARN YOU, THIS WILL BE A ROUGH TRIP! WE'LL HAVE TO FLY THROUGH PART OF THE HURRICANE--

--- A WEATHER CREW FROM MORRISON FIELD GATHERED DATA ON STORMS FOR THE AIR TRANSPORT COMMAND LAST FALL AND--

--- THEY FLEW THROUGH THE CORE OF SEVERAL HURRICANES IN A B-25-- SO IF THEY TOOK IT, I THINK WE AND OUR 29 CAN TAKE IT, TOO!

ATOMIC ENERGY, THE INNERMOST SECRET OF TH' UNIVERSE, ABOUT TO BE USED BY MAN AGAINST THE ELEMENTS-- WE MAY END UP AS DIS-INTEGRATED ATOMS OURSELVES!

HOW ABOUT A GAME OF POOL BEFORE TURNIN' IN FOR TONIGHT, UNCLE WILLIE?

NO MUCH AS I WOULD LIKE TO MOONSHINE, I THINK I'D BETTER BE GETTING HOME.
